Burlington Eagles Chalk Up Three Victories In Three Starts; Hebron Takes One From Campbell County Five

Tigers Suffer Second Loss At Hands of Gallatin County Quintet.

Burlington school's high flying Eagles stepped into high gear during the past two weeks and defeated three conference rivals (Hebron 49-40, Florence 46-27 and New Haven 52-37) to close out the first half of the '48-49 season with the highest average of all county quints and a 3-1 record for runners-up position in the Boone League.

In other games during the past two weeks, New Haven's Tigers lost a 5 point 42-37 game to the winning Wildcats of Warsaw (10-2 record) and Hebron's Cardinals tipped Campbell County of the NKAC by a 36-34 score.

Eagles 49-Cards 40

Burlington's win over Hebron was the first time in six years that the Eagles have beaten the Cards in a conference game.

Paced by Lafe Miller, powerful and uncanny pivotman, the Eagles pulled into a 12-7 first quarter lead, added 10 more in the second quarter as the Cards tallied 9 for a 22-16 halftime score.

Again in the third stage the Eagles outscored Hebron 16-13 to hold a 38-29 lead. Each team scored 11 points in the final quarter for a game ending score of 49-40.

Miller led the scoring column with 24 points as McBee, Ryle and Cave tossed in 25 between them for the winners. McGlasson topped Hebron with 15, Elliston got 9, Carver 8, Leek 5, Hoppenjans 3 and Tanner 2.

Burlington 46 - Florence 27

The Eagles defeated the Florence Knights in a game much closer than the 46-27 score indicates. The Knights held an 8-4 quarter advantage and were even 12-12 at the half.

The third period ended 26-24 with Burlington on top but in the final period the Eagles ran wild scoring 20 points while holding the Knights to 3.

Featuring the Eagles play was John Cropper's defensive work in holding the usual high scoring Markesbery to a lone fielder.

Coach Maurer of the Eagles says Cropper is the most underrated ball player in the county. He says that Cropper in the past four crucial games has allowed his offensive opponents 11 points and that they were tough boys—Vest, Markesbery are examples.

Offensively Jim Ryle and Miller were the big guns for the Eagles. They had 19 and 13 points. McBee added 8, Rouse 4, and Cropper 2.

Lipscomb led the Knights with 9, Roland got 6, Quinn and C. A. England 5 each and Markesbery 2.

Burlington 52 - New Haven 37

With both teams showing signs of too much Christmas vacation, the Eagles defeated New Haven by a 52-37 count at the loser's floor last Tuesday night.

The first quarter ended 10-10 but the Eagles held 24-22 and 35-31 leads at the next rest periods before their last quarter scoring spree of 17 points while the losers got 6.

Hebron 36 - Campbell Co. 34

Hebron nosed out the Campbell County Camels at the winner's floor Thursday night, December 23, by a 36-34 count. The game was close throughout with the Campbells holding a 9-7 quarter lead and a 17-17 count at the halftime. The losers pulled into a two point 25-23 lead at the end of three quarters, but paced by McGlasson, the Cards outscored Campbell County 13-9 in the final period for victory.

Gallatin Co. 43 - New Haven 38

Gallatin County High of Warsaw trimmed New Haven at the loser's floor after being on the short end of an 8-6 first quarter score.

The winners pulled ahead for a 19-16 half time count and 29-26 at the third quarter.

Crommer led the winners with 16, Arrasmith had 8, Riddle 6, Montgomery 4, Maxwell 3, and Beach, Howell and Rider 2 each. Mason and Love led the Tigers with 10 each. Dickerson had 8, Flynn 6, and Clements 4.

Gallatin County's second team won 50-19.

Resignation of E. G. Stephenson Announced By Consolidated Telephone Company; Effective January 1st

RESIGNS AS PHONE MANAGER

E. G. Stephenson

ASSUMES DUTIES OF MANAGER

G. B. Foscue, Jr.

Had Been Employed By Telephone Company For Past Twenty Years.

Resignation of E. G. Stephenson as vice president and general manager of the Consolidated Telephone Co., Florence, Ky., effective Jan. 1, has been announced by G. B. Foscue, Wilmette, Ill., president of the company.

Mr. Stephenson some time ago made known his plans to leave the telephone operating field to establish a consulting and construction service for Kentucky Independent telephone companies, particularly the smaller ones, which service he opened on January 1.

Mr. Stephenson was succeeded by G. B. Foscue, Jr., who for three years has been associated with the Southwestern States Telephone Co., Brownwood, Texas, as traffic superintendent.

Mr. Stephenson began his telephone work in 1928 when he became an apprentice lineman for the Consolidated Telephone Co. In 1930, he was transferred to general service and installation work, and in 1933, he was appointed plant superintendent. In 1935 he was named manager of the company.

In 1938, Mr. Stephenson was placed in charge of the conversion from magneto to common battery operation of the Irvine and Ravenna exchanges of the company, which included construction of a new central office building, installation of new central office equipment, and rehabilitation of the outside plants.

In 1940, he returned to Florence as manager of all the company's properties until the spring of 1947, when he was elected vice president and general manager.

Mr. Stephenson was active in the formation of the Kentucky Independent Telephone Association in 1933 and he has served as an officer and director. At present he is vice president and a director of the association.

Mr. Foscue, Jr., became associated with the telephone industry in July, 1935, following his graduation from Lehigh University, when he joined the staff of Telephone Management Co., Fort Wayne, Ind., a unit of the Gary Group. In September 1935, he was transferred to Kansas City and was elected secretary-treasurer and a director of several Gary operating companies.

Mr. Foscue, in February, 1939, joined the Texas Telephone Co., Sherman, Texas, as assistant general manager. In August, 1945, he accepted the position of manager of the Dyersville district of the Iowa Telephone & Telegraph Co., having general supervision over all the departments of 12 exchanges.

He resigned from that position in February, 1946, to become traffic superintendent of the Southwestern States Telephone Co., in which his duties consisted of all phases of traffic management in the company's 195 exchanges of the states of Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana.

In announcing Mr. Stephenson's resignation, Mr. Foscue stated that he appreciated the work and interest shown by Mr. Stephenson during his term as manager of the company, and it is with regret that he was forced to announce his resignation.

Boone County Man Tipped For State Tax Position, Is Word

Gov. Clements Expected To Name Robert Hensley Tax Collector.

Gov. Earle Clements is expected to appoint Robert B. Hensley native of Boone County as state omitted tax collector some time this month, according to reports.

Hensley, a former Burlington boy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hensley, was a key figure in the governor's primary and election campaigns in 1947 and served as his executive secretary until last July, when he resigned to help in the nomination of Representative Virgil Chapman of Paris for the U. S. Senate.

General belief in the capitol city is that Hensley will get the tax job for which he has been slated since Clements took office a year ago, although his name has figured in discussion of Clements choice for the U. S. Senate seat that Senator Alben W. Barkley will vacate when he becomes Vice President Jan. 20.

Revenue Department officials estimate that an active, full-time collector could net approximately $10,000 annually by seeking out taxpayers who, either through ignorance or by design, fail to make returns and pay taxes on various classes of property.

The job formerly was held by Clifford E. Smith, Frankfort attorney, and later his law firm, Smith & Leary.

Florence Man Arrested By Sheriff R. I. Rouse After Flashing Shotgun

Charles Durain, 23, Florence was placed in Burlington jail Saturday under $1000 bond after he was arrested on a bench warrant by Sheriff R. I. Rouse.

Sheriff Rouse was informed that Durain, who jumped a $500 bond more than a year ago, had returned from Missouri to visit relatives.

Sheriff Rouse stated that when he entered the home Durain seised a shotgun and pointed it at the officer. Sheriff Rouse backed from the room, drew his revolver and returned, ordering Durain to drop his gun.

NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS

OUR NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS ARE:

1. To operate our bank as we have in the past—on a sound and safe basis, keeping in mind, above all things, the safety of our depositors' funds.
2. We will not invest our depositors' money in any unsafe loan or investment.
3. We will pay the safe rate of 1% interest and the taxes on Time and Savings deposits, believing that a depositor is more interested in preserving his principal than to speculate on higher interest rates.
4. We want our bank ready to meet all emergencies at all times, just as we have in the past. The old proverb, "Better Be Safe Than Sorry," still rings true.

All unmarried persons having a yearly income of $1,000.00 or more must file a return and all persons having a yearly income of $2500.00 or more must file a return.

Penalty for failure to file a return is 10 per cent of the tax due or a minimum of $10.00. Penalty for failure to make payments on time is 5 per cent of the tax due, plus one per cent a month interest, until paid.

State income tax blanks are being mailed direct from Frankfort to all former income taxpayers on the Department of Revenue's list. REDDY KILOWATT STEPS UP TO MEET THE PUBLIC

An energetic young fellow, full of pep and personality, makes his bow as an employee of Community Public Service Company this week.

His name is Reddy Kilowatt and he makes his home in the hundreds of electric outlets in this community. He's the fellow who springs forth to do your bidding whenever you snap a switch or plug in an appliance. He is always on the job, he never tires and he has the patience to wait for days and nights behind your outlets, just in case you might need the smallest amount of service.

Of course, Reddy has been around all the time, but he is making his first local appearance in this newspaper this week. You'll see him stepping out from his electric outlet home and introducing himself in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue. He is the symbol of electric service and you'll be seeing a lot of him in the local power company's advertising from now on.

Reddy Kilowatt is the brain child of Ashton B. Collins, former commerical manager of Alabama Power Company, who conceived him as a means of personalizing and visualizing the invisible kilowatt-hour. In putting Reddy on the payroll, Community is joining numerous other power companies in the U. S. and 14 foreign countries who are making use of his versatile service.

A homey little character, commonplace as an old shoe, Reddy Kilowatt talks in everyday language about everyday things. Not a fixed trademark always appearing in the same pose, he moves, laughs, works, expresses emotion. His body purposely takes the lightning flash form associated with electricity in everyone's mind. His nose is a light bulb, his ears are convenience outlets and he moves swiftly and works safely in his rubber gloves and rubber shoes. Although he is slender he is one-third stronger than a horse. (A kilowatt equals 1,000 watts a horse-power, 746 watts).

He appears in any dress and in any situation. He can be a chef, a lineman, salesman, school teacher, factory worker, farmer or any other personality, but always he is Reddy Kilowatt, electric servant. Unfailingly cheerful and active, he is popular with grown-ups and children alike.

Reddy's chief job will be to give the kilowatt-hour a personality and to represent electricity as the tireless servant that it really is. His messages will be interesting and informative, designed to help local users get the maximum benefit from their electric service. So look for Reddy Kilowatt in this newspaper and elsewhere from now on. He's a willing and obedient servant—always ready at the snap of a switch!

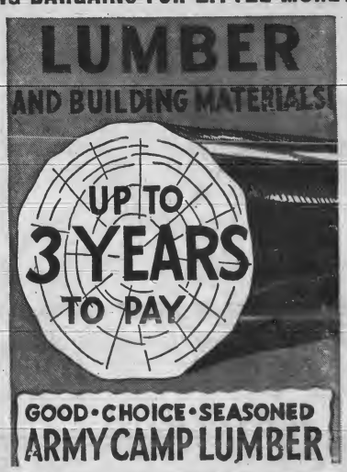
I'm REDDY KILOWATT
Your Electric Servant

You've never seen me before because I've always stayed inside the REDDY-BOX—your electric outlet. Now I'm stepping out so that we can get better acquainted.

I'm the symbol of good electric service . . . your servant that runs everything electrical.



I'm not like anyone you've ever seen before. My body is made of lightning flashes—my nose a light bulb—my ears are outlets—and those two things sticking out of my head are wisps of curly hair. I move silently in my rubber shoes. I move swiftly too, at the speed of 186 thousand miles per second . . . I'm the fastest thing on earth.

I'm your economical and willing servant who works long hours at low wages. Whenever you want me I'll be waiting in your nearest REDDYBOX, —electric outlet. Remember, just . . . "PLUG IN,—I'M REDDY".

Wiley King Is Identified As Holdup Man By Victim

Had Operated In And About Greater Cincinnati Airport in Boone Co.

Sheriff R. I. Rouse stated Tuesday that Wiley King being held by Kenton County authorities on a concealed weapon charge, has been identified by a Butler man, who was heldup on the night of January 9 by King near the Greater Cincinnati Airport, in Boone County.

Other persons who have been held up and robbed on rural roads in the vicinity of the airport in recent months were asked Thursday by Kenton County officials to view the suspect who was being held in Covington jail.

King, who gave his address as "any place my hat's off" had a .22 caliber target revolver in his possession when he was taken into custody Wednesday on old Shinkle road, near Erlanger.

Kenton County police also found a large caliber rifle in the truck in which King was riding.

FBI records show that King has a criminal record dating from 1941 when he was charged with breaking and entering in Silver City, N. M. The record also shows he was arrested in Louisville in 1945 and sentenced to a year in jail on a charge of auto theft.

King's victim of January 9th signed a warrant for his arrest Monday afternoon in Burlington, charging armed robbery. The minimum penalty on such a charge is 21 years, according to officials.

During the past several months couples have been victims of a holdup man in about the airport, according to Sheriff Rouse, and it is believed, from descriptions of the bandit that the same man has committed the various crimes.

REDDY, AT YOUR FINGERTIPS!
I'll work for you the whole day through
Toast your toast; cook, roast, or stew
Wash your clothes; and press them, too.
I'll beat, I'll clean; make ice for you.
I'll help in factories, stores and schools
And help the youngsters learn the rules
For farmers I've got lots of tricks
Like milking cows or hatching chicks.
And, Boss, I bet you're glad to know
I work long hours for wages low
So call me early; keep me late
In my REDDYBOX home I'll always wait.

January 23: "Meeting God on the Mountain of Temptation—Olivet."

Agricultural Refund Gasoline To Be Purple

Effective February 1, 1949 all gasoline sold to agricultural refund permit holders by licensed gasoline dealers will be identified by its purple color, the Department of Revenue disclosed with the issuance of Gasoline Tax Regulation GLR-4.

David K. Walker, Director of the Division of Excises said this action became necessary to protect the agricultural permit holders who are observing the legal requirements for the use of refund gasoline. Walker pointed out that careless and illegal use of refund gasoline could lead to repeal of the law under which tax is refunded on gasoline used exclusively in agricultural work.

Records show these refunds have reached a volume of approximately $450,000 annually. This constitutes a steady claim upon the Highway Department Road Fund; therefore, a system of regular inspection and investigation must be made by the Department of Revenue to assure that refunds are made to cover only the legitimate use of agricultural refund gasoline. The purple colored gasoline with a special dye furnished by the department will make possible better control.

Supplies and copies of the regulation are being sent to all licensed gasoline dealers and their agents in Kentucky.

Dillon, violin; Miss Mary Ann Waginger, Marimba artist; Bob Washburn, accordion, and Carroll Smith, dance stylist. Piano numbers by Carolina Rouse and Joann Nusbaum, and Charles Popham at the drums.

The highlight of the show will be the Songerster's Quartette composed of four prominent voices: Paul Chaney, Fitzhugh Tanner, Patrolman Ed Taylor and O. A. Fields, singing the comedy number, "Listen To My Tale Of Woe."

UNION W. M. U. NOTES

In the first meeting of the New Year held January 13 at the church plans were made that we go forward in a greater way through the new year in attendance, better programs and wording others for Christ.

The new officers taking their place in rank for the year were: Anna Smith, president; Mrs Louise Newman, secretary and treasurer; Mary Belle Rice, program chairman; Modelyn Crume, mission study; Elaine Drennig, community missions; Virgil Young, literature.

Mrs. Anna Smith opened the meeting with our new watchword found in Psalm 148 13. After singing our new hymn for the year "O For a Thousand Tongues" Mrs Rice took charge of a very interesting book of study, "Christ for The Individual" which was very ably discussed by the 13 members present.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Alline Ryle.

—Publicity Chairman.

Burlington Man Awarded Membership In Exclusive DX Century Club

Don Chesser, Route 1, Burlington, Ky., has been awarded membership in the DX Century Club, exclusive society of amateur radio operators who have made two-way short-wave radio contacts with at least 100 of the more than 200 countries of the world.

Chesser's is the 362 amateur station to achieve the 100-country contacts since the war. The station, set up in his home, uses the federally-assigned call letters W4KVX, which have become well known to amateurs throughout the world. All contacts were made using radiotelegraphy.

All his communications have been proved, as required by the rules of the club, by written confirmation in the form of QSL (acknowledgement) cards, which bedeck the wall of his radio-operating room.

Thousands of American "hams" have contacted the "easy" countries where there are a large number of amateurs, such as Canada, Mexico and Australia. But the ones like Iceland and Netherlands New Guinea and Malta are another matter, requiring a high degree of proficiency in long-distance communication. A thorough knowledge of the behavior of radio waves in the ionosphere is but one requisitite. Underlying all the apparent fun an amateur has, then, is a basic self-training in radio operating under difficult conditions—an asset the military services found invaluable when 25,000 American hams were in uniform.

NEW HAVEN P. T. A.

On Tuesday night, January 4 at a meeting the New Haven P.-T. A. met again in regular session, when the president, Mrs. Warren Miller presided. Mrs. Miller opened her gavel. In spite of the most inclement weather some 15 members responded to the roll call.

After the reading of the minutes reports and all old business had been dealt with, plans for completing the membership drive for the year were discussed. This drive is to culminate in an open house at New Haven on the night of Tuesday, February 1. All parents and friends of the school are extended a most hearty invitation to visit the school, especially the rooms in which they are most vitally interested. Each teacher will be present in his or her room to welcome all visitors at the particular time.

It was voted to reward the room reporting the greatest number registered visitors with a book or books for its individual library.

Parents, let's make an effort on this special date February 1 to visit New Haven school and become a member of the P.-T. A., the organization which is always promoting the growth, progress and development of our school and a more friendly relation between parents and teachers.

On Friday, January 20 at 8:00 the P.-T. A. will sponsor a Magician show. This is something no one wants to miss. Plan to attend. Tickets will be on sale by the New Haven school children prior to the night of the 20th. Watch this paper next week for a more detailed account.

Conservation Conversation

By J. C. Acres

Many people, at the beginning of the year make New Year resolutions. Some do jokingly, some take warm, while yet a large portion are sincere in their efforts, becoming weary on the way, and a small portion cross the tape. Merely saying that you are going to make this or that resolution deserves some credit.

It seems that the city dweller would be somewhat limited on what he or she might jot down in their little red book. Of course they would have their moral obligations to render with as same as the rural folks, but when it comes to the physical they could sum it up by saying "I am going to make a better mark, or money trap than I did last year, or do what the boss says or something to that effect."

But the folks on the farm, the things they can put down in the little book would take up much time, so why not jot down some of the most important and very often get the little book out and ask yourself, "How am I doing?"

Why not have a little competitive game with your neighbor, (of course not telling him) and see if you can't do some job better than he. Resolve that you are going to raise a better crop of tobacco, or keep your fence rows cleaner, or keep your rows on the contour, or a hundred other things you might select.

Of course if you want to get personal, you can say, "I am going to build a neater fence than D. M. Johnson, Beaver Road, Walton, did, and I am going to beat him spreading old lime piles that have never been spread." (Now Lacey, put this line with the farm, but he says he is going to spread all of it this spring, and I'm betting he does).

Then again you can resolve that you will make a better pasture than Dr. Northcutt has on his Northway farm or Arthur Gilpin smoothed terraced, limed and seeded fifteen acres that has been idle for years. I am going one better and give my field a heavy application of superphosphate. Yes there are thousands of resolutions you can make.

Something attempted, something done.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to all the friends, neighbors and relatives for the kindness and sympathy shown in the loss of my beloved brother,

Especially do I want to thank Rev. V. J. Herman Andres for his consoling words and Ralph Stith for his kindness and efficient service in conducting the funeral arrangements. 1t-c.

Walton rebounded Friday night at their home floor by trimming the St. Henry Crusaders 65-42. The Cats pulled away from a 7-6 quarter lead to 22-15 at the half and 36-28 at the third quarter, and then turned on the steam in the final stanza scoring 29 points as the visitors tallied 14. Vest had 23 points and Maddox and Rice added 13 each for the winners. Wichmann with 17 and Roth with 10 lead the Crusader effort. St. Henry's reserves won 39-32 in the opener.

Surgical Shoes

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

HISTORY—Mrs. G. E. M. suffered headaches and neckaches. Her neck ached so intensely at the base of the skull she could hardly see. Days at a time she could not get out of bed because of the severity of the pains. She read one of our ads., telling of the good work we were doing, and decided to see what we could do for her. After a very short time wearing surgical shoes, pain in the head and neck lessened till finally it disappeared entirely and she is well and happy. It is now possible for her to do her own work even when it is necessary for her to climb a stepladder. Surgical shoes seemingly worked miracles for her.

COMMENT — Strain on ligaments and tendons naturally has a weakening effect upon muscles. Continued neglect of these conditions may be the cause of your aches and pains in the neck and back and if you have been unable to get relief, come in and let us see what we can do for you.

If your ankles are weak and you are constantly rolling them, surgical shoes are definitely the answer to your problem.—Adv.

Expanded Social Security

Expansion of social security benefits to workers not now under the Act is proposed in bills presented to the Senate and House during the first two weeks of session. President Truman has recommended raising the ceiling on taxable earnings as well as extend the payroll tax to workers and employers not now covered. The addition of insurance coverage for medical care and disability benefits will also require some additions to the payroll tax rates.

A movement is underway to overhaul the Social Security system by (1) extending old-age and survivors insurance to nearly all the 25 million gainfully employed persons not now covered; (2) provide disability insurance to protect loss of earnings during illness or other temporary disability, and to assure continuing annuities to workers who become permanently disabled and therefore unable to earn a livelihood; (3) extending coverage of unemployment compensation to workers in small establishments.

The non-partisan Advisory Council on Social Security reported to Congress a number of suggestions likely to be included in legislation. Their program called for greater benefits and a broadening of the system to include about 7,000,000 workers who are now excluded from unemployment insurance protection.

Preparedness Real Objective

Nearly two years ago, Congress passed a law called the National Security Act of 1947. Its purpose was "to provide a comprehensive program for the future security of the United States." Under this law, steps have been taken to improve the organization and the efficiency of the nation's military establishments. Unfortunately, the notion is widely held that the intent of Congress in passing the law was the outright and immediate "unification" of the armed forces. For example, the public has been given the impression that The National Security Act intends that we shall have one air force and only one, an dthat the Navy violates the spirit of the law in not turning over all its air activities to the Department of the Air Force. In reality, the law states just the opposite, by directing Congress to "provide three military departments for the operation and administration of the Army and the Navy (including Naval Aviation and the Marine Corps) and the Air Force." It clearly states that the purpose is to provide for the "authoritative coordination of these agencies and unified direction under civilian control but not to merge them."

Senator Gurney, Chairman of the Armed Services Committee, points out that "neither the Navy alone, the Air Force alone, nor the Army alone is capable of supplying the needed military strength of the United States. If Congress believed one of them could, it would have taken steps to eliminate the other two in the interest of economy. That this was not done testifies eloquently to Congressional opinion concerning the need for all three branches."

Naval aviation is the heart of the modern Navy. It is a highly specialized branch of the military services. It requires a type of flying alien to any other aviation activity. And it is significant that the Hoover Commission, in studying the entire government structure, including national security, has rejected the idea of merging Naval aviation with the Air Force.

If ever there was a time when the citizen and the voter must exert himself to obtain accurate information on public issues, it is now. The controversy over so-called unification of the armed services is a case in point. The real objectives are efficiency, economy, and military preparedness. Unification should not become a catch word to trip the unwary.

March of Dimes Campaign Gaining Momentum in State

According to Mrs. Inez K. Ligon, Director of State Drive.

The 1949 March of Dimes Campaign which is entering its second week, is gaining momentum, Mrs. Inez K. Ligon, director of Kentucky's March of Dimes announced.

Mrs. Ligon urged all citizens to continue their efforts until the end of the campaign on January 31, and make the 1949 campaign a record success.

There is wider interest in the campaign this year, Mrs. Ligon said, as the public becomes aware of the urgent needs for the battle against infantile paralysis. Many of the patients receiving hospital service now were stricken ten and twelve years ago.

The road to recovery for many polio victims is a long and costly one and they need assistance. Your liberal contribution to the March of Dimes furnishes that assistance.

It is also important that trained personnel and specialized equipment be available when and if a polio epidemic should strike in Kentucky. Continued research is necessary too if we ever hope to wipe out this crippling disease.

Your contribution to the March of Dimes is assurance that the fight against polio will be continued in Kentucky and the nation.

Erlanger Girl Is Found Sleeping In Home of Mother

Schoolmates Tell Police Girl Got Into Automobile With Strange Woman.

Police of Northern Kentucky and Ohio and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation combined Monday night to search for Judith Dixon, 8, ward of Mr .and Mrs. E. G. Brady, Sunset Avenue, Erlanger, who disappeared shortly after she left Erlanger Public School, Locust Street, Erlanger at 3 p. m. Monday.

Shortly after midnight the child was found at the home of her mother ,Mrs. Virginia Eckstein, of 4913 Montgomery road, Norwood by Detective Richard Stone and Patrolman Robert Reiser.

The FBI was asked to aid in the search for the missing child after two of her schoolmates told police they saw Judith get into an automobile with a woman. They said it was a brown automobile with yellow license plates.

The child was turned over to the Cincinnati Youth Aid Bureau.

Harold Muntz, chief probation officer of Juvenile Court, reported that the mother voluntarily placed her daughter in care of Mr. and Mrs. Brady about three years ago. This was after the mother was divorced and married again.

Drinking Water From Boone County Tested Recently

Samples of drinking water from approximately fifty cisterns and wells of Boone County have been tested at the Public Service Laboratories in the last year. Reports sent from the laboratories located at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station shows that about one-sixth of the samples were contaminated.

Water reported contaminated should be treated according to the following instructions:

Water for domestic use should be from sources which have been shown by bacteriological examination to be pure and free from harmful or objectionable contamination. If forced to use water showing such contamination or from sources of unknown purity, then all such water should be boiled or treated with chlorinated lime to render same harmless before use. In such cases rigid precautions should be taken to guard against the use of any raw or untreated water.

Treatment For Cisterns

The average size cistern may be treated by mixing chlorinated lime in a pail with sufficient water to form a thin paste; fill with water and allow to stand until coarse particles have settled, then pour liquid into the cistern and allow to stand twenty-four hours before use. Use chlorinated lime at the rate of 1 oz. for each 5,000 gallons of water in cistern and repeat in a week or 10 days if a distinct odor or taste of chlorine is not imparted to the water by the first treatment. This taste should disappear in about 24 to 36 hours after treatment. Cistern must be free from seepage and surface contamination for such treatment to be effective.

Treat For Water From Wells, Springs, Etc.

Water from wells, springs, ponds or streams should be placed in barrels or tanks and treated with chlorinated lime, using level teaspoon of the power to each 50 gallon barrel of water. Only clear water is suitable for such use. "Chloride of lime" is difficult to mix with water. A good method is to take the required amount, place in a quart Mason jar and fill two-thirds full with water. Screw on cover and shake violently for two or three minutes, then pour contents into barrel of water. Mix thoroughly and allow to stand overnight before use. Each days' supply of water should be prepared the evening before it is intended for use. "Chloride of lime" is inexpensive and may be purchased from any drug store. Only fresh stock should be used, as it deteriorates with age.

Anyone wanting to have their drinking water tested is urged to contact the Public Service Laboratories, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Kentucky, Lexington for a water container or the county extension office.

Burley Shows Slight Increase Over Last Friday

Burley tobacco prices rallied slightly in Kentucky Monday from the seasonal low of last Friday when twenty-two markets reporting sales showed an average of $43.01 a hundredweight. This was 76 cents on the hundredweight higher than Friday's average, the State Department of Agriculture reported.

The twenty-two markets reporting sold 9,619,787 pounds Monday for $4,137,365.95.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported burley prices by grades Monday held generally at the same levels at those of Friday. The quality of offerings improved, the department said ,as more lugs and flyings were sold and less leaf, tips and nondescript types were marketed. A few low and fair leaf grades brought slightly higher prices, but the heavier lugs showed a tendency to lose ground.

Quarantine Placed On Dogs In North Bend Community

Reports Show Dog and Cow Head Infected With Rabies, Says Sheriff.

Sheriff R. I. Rouse placed a quarantine on all dogs in the North Bend community Tuesday of this week, following reports from the University of Kentucky, declaring that heads from a dog and cow sent to the laboratory for examination proved positive for rabies.

Sheriff Rouse stated that all dogs in this territory must be placed in kennels, or tied for thirty days or until quarantine is lifted by him. Any dogs caught running at large will be killed, it was announced.

The head of a dog owned by Theodore Relford of the North Bend section was sent to Lexington for examination and was declared infected with rabies. The head of a cow bitten by dogs was sent to the laboratory at Lexington, and it was also declared infected with rabies.

To prevent further outbreak of the disease throughout the county this quarantine is being placed, Sheriff Rouse stated. He urged that owners of dogs in all sections of the county keep close check on their pets, and if any indication of rabies is noticed to pen or tie the animal immediately.

Inventory

If you have been around stores or business houses since Christmas, you no doubt have noticed one or more persons taking stock or inventory. This is of course good business because the merchant or business man not only will know his assets but from his list of goods he will know the good sellers and the slow ones and will have a guide as how to stock for the new year.

If this is good business for the merchant then it surely will be good business for the farmer. Too often the farmer thinks in terms of what he wants rather than what he can do without profitably. On most all farms in Boone County you will find machinery falling down never to be used again. It would be good business to advertise and sell any tool not used and use this cash for soil improvement. This article might be the limiting factor in some other farmer's plan. An old wagon or plow in the fence corner makes you feel that someone lived there once, but if you go up to the barn or machine shed and find machinery in good repair you feel that this fellow is on his toes. On my way to work there is an old wagon sitting in a field that has been passed up by junk dealers all thru the war years. Someone broke down there, unhitched, and drove away.

We have been talking about manufactured goods but the inventory that all farmers should make is the soil—the FARM. William Vogt's book, "Road To Survival," will alarm you on his inventory of soils and resources.

But coming back to the farm inventory. You will of course make a list of your farm implements on hand, the number of livestock and you will compare them with what you had last year. Then, plus the cash in bank might make you feel pretty good. Then the soil, how about it? Your fields might look as good or better than last year, but for each dollar you received for milk, corn, tobacco, livestock or hay, you have sold part of your farm. How will you list this in your inventory? It is robbing Peter to pay Paul.

Thousands of acres in Boone County, that was once good productive land is now waste land. Why? Because it was mistreated and misused. What can we do about it? From time to time suggestions will be made in this column and reports of what different individuals are doing, but now is the time to take inventory so let's set down our assets and not forget our liabilities and see what WE can do about it.

A Correction

In last week's issue of The Recorder we carried an article stating that Barbara Norris was one out of five on the honor roll at Asbury College to receive all A's. According to a letter from Barbara she corrects us as follows:

"I was listed on the honor roll for the first quarter but did not receive all A's. The honor roll consists of all of those who have a cumulative standing of 2.40 and above. I was listed as one of five freshmen who received all A's but one. I am proud of this and I feel justly so. However, there were five freshmen who received all A's."

Monthly Fellowship Supper At Bullittsville Christian Church, Success

In line with a planned program of work for the coming year, a fellowship supper was held at the Bullittsville Christian Church last Wednesday evening. It is proposed to observe the last Wednesday evening of each month in this manner and the respective programs are being planned so as to provide food for the body, enlightenment and diversion for the mind and, most important of all, nourishment of a spiritual nature.

Rev. A. C. Young and his fellow workers were more than gratified with the initial effort of last Wednesday night. More than fifty members were present as well as some invited guests, as it is a part of the fellowship plan for each member to invite friends and acquaintances other than their own, or, possibly, any other denomination.

Following the bountiful spread of food in the basement, all present proceeded to the auditorium where they witnessed the showing of a sound picture, "Simon Peter," which had been secured and was shown by the minister, Rev. Young. Its depiction of the call of Simon Peter by Jesus was remarkably acted and left a profound impression upon all.

Retiring again to the basement, the last hour was spent in social relaxation through the medium of games, with both young and old taking part.

All in all, those members who failed to attend this first fellowship supper surely missed a well-rounded evening of refreshment of every nature and they are urged to attend every supper in the future and bring someone with them.

Snow Blankets County Monday; Crops Benefitted

Condition of Roads Reported Fair; Accidents Are Few.

A blanket of snow covered the county and most of the state Monday with the temperature dipping to a low of four degrees in this section, being the coldest morning of the present winter.

Condition of roads throughout the county was reported as "slippery" with main thoroughfares such as U. S. 25 and 42 practically clear of all snow Monday afternoon. Few accidents were reported due to the slippery condition of the roads.

Farmers throughout this section welcomed the snow, as it will benefit the small grain crops, they said. Extreme cold weather probably would damage the grain crop heavily had it not been for the snow.

The Ohio River which had reached flood stage, crested Sunday and was expected to recede slowly during the next few days.

I LIKE TO WORK WITH MY OWN TOOLS

"I certainly wouldn't want to farm with a borrowed tractor. I like to work with my own tools.

"That's the reason why . . . when I need financing for land, improvements, or any long-term farm need . . . I get a Federal Land Bank loan through my own National Farm Loan Association.

"You see, my own association . . . and every other cooperative National Farm Loan Association in the country . . . are owned by farmers! So . . . I'm using my own tools even in financing!

"I can borrow money at a low interest rate . . . on terms which are adapted to farming . . . and my repayment plan takes into consideration my normal capacity to pay."

Yes . . . using your own local National Farm Loan Association for financing is just like working with your own tools on your own farm. It makes good farm sense!

ARMY COMPLETES DRAFT CALL FOR TWO MONTHS

Greater Cincinnati's prospective inductees breathed a sigh of relief Wednesday of last week as the Army completed its last call in this area for two months.

Because of the heavy flow of volunteers, the Army canceled draft calls for February and March and authorities have indicated the draft might not be invoked again if enlistments continue high.

When asked how it felt ot be one of the men inducted in what may be the last draft call, Henry Evans, brother of Jerry Evans of Burlington said, "I think it's great. I believe it can be an interesting and educational experience."

VOLUME VI — BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1948 — NUMBER 21

Price and Volume Of Burley Continues Decline, Is Report

The statewide average price was $38.62 a hundred pounds, compared with $41.64 the previous week, according to the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

The lower weekly average pulled the season's average down to $45.88 for sales in Kentucky, a decline of 28 cents from a week ago. Kentucky's entire 1947 crop returned producers an average of $49.56, highest on record. A total of 422,251,902 pounds of the 1948 crop has been marketed this season in Kentucky for $193,732,023.31, the State Agriculture Department reported.

Lower quality offerings were chiefly responsible for the decreased weely average, according to reports. The burley belt's sales this season amount to 626,730,410 pounds at a $46.16 average. The belt's average last season was $48.52 highest on record.

A sharp increase was noted in the percentage of baskets consigned to the cooperatives under the government loan program. Approximately 26 to 30 per cent of the leaf was delivered to the cooperatives last week.

High Average Reported

Robt. Clifford reports the sale of 3166 pounds of burley sold at the New Bright Light floor at Carrollton for an average of $56.43. The tobacco was grown on the farm of A. J. Ogden at Limaburg on 1.4 acre base.

A total of 22,890 pounds of tobacco brought $7,419.86, for an average of $32.41 a hundredweight Monday at the Covington Independent Tobacco Warehouse, Erlanger, and 15,930 pounds of leaf brought $8,142.53, or $38.86 a hundredweight at the Kenton Loose Leaf Warehouse, Covington, in Monday's auctions.

Sales will be held today (Thursday) at both markets and will mark the end of the 1949 tobacco consignments in the Covington market.

February 15 Is Last Day For '48 ACP Reports

Approximately Nine Hundred Farmers Carry Out ACP Practices.

Tuesday, February 15, is the last day for farmers to report conservation practices carried out under the provisions of the 1948 Agricultural Conservation Program in order to qualify for payments under the program, according to W. M. Smith, chairman of the Boone County ACP committee.

Mr. Smith estimates that 900 farmers in the county carried out practices last year in cooperation with the program, but so far only 700 have made official reports of practices.

Farmers who received soil-building materials should report on the use of these materials whether a cash payment is due them or not, Mr. Smith said.

Farmers who have not yet signed up to participate in the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program may sign 1949 program plans at the same time they report on 1948 ACP performance.

Burlington-Walton Tied For Conference Hoop Championship

By Result of Games Over Week-End; Walton and Hebron Victims.

The Burlington High Eagles, though plagued with injuries which kept one regular peformer out of uniform and two more from operating at top speed, won their 14th, 15th and 16th victories of the season last week. The wins—two of which were Boone Conference games—put the Eagles in a tie for the Boone League leadership and gave the Blue and White a season record of 16 wins against 3 losses for one of the best records in the region.

The Eagles, after a ten-day layoff due to sickness in the school, trimmed the Erlanger Lloyd Juggernauts 44-38 at the local gym last Tuesday night. The winners, with McBee and Ryle showing the way, tallied 11 points in each quarter. Lloyd scored 12 points in the opening frame and 5 in the second quarter for a short end 22-17 half score. The Jugs added 9 in the third period and 12 in the last quarter. Johnson had 20 points for the losers. Haven helped the cause with 8. Cave and Miller together added 16 to the 24 points split by McBee and Ryle.

The Lloyd reserves won 25-13.

Cards, Cats Victims

The Eagles added Walton Bearcats and Hebron's Cards to their win column on Friday and Saturday nights by one point margins, 60-59 and 44-43. Both games were on the losers' floor.

A free throw by Cave in the waning seconds of play gave Coach Maurer's Eagles their victory over the Walton quint in a game that was close throughout. Walton held a 17-15 first quarter lead and outscored the Eagles 16-15 in the second period for a 33-30 half-time lead. Each team tallied 13 points in the third period for a 46-43 count.

The Eagles hit for 17 points in the final frame while Walton got 13. Bill McBee topped the Burlington offensive with 16 points while Miller added 13 and Cave and Ryle got 12 each. Yeast had 21 and Maddox 20 for the Bearcats.

Burlington's second team defeated Walton 23-18.

The Cards held 11-8 and 20-17 leads at the first two period but the Eagles came out at the half and poured in 15 points while holding the home team to 7. The Cards pulled up in the final period but the winners froze the last minute out for the win. Burlington's scoring was paced by Ryle and McBee with 11 points each. Cave added nine, Miller seven, Rouse five and E. Ryle one. McGlasson scored 28 of the Cards' 43 tallies.

New Haven's Tigers, handicapped by player ineligibility, dropped two non-conference games last week to the St. Henry Crusaders and Bethany. St. Henry tripped the Tigers 49-43 last Thursday night at the loser's gym. The Tigers led 9-6 and 15-14 at the first two stops. The Crusaders moved into a 33-23 lead at the end of the third period. Flynn led the Tigers with 19 points. Roth had 18, Fleek and Fussinger added 12 apiece for Bobby Ross' Crusader five. The St. Henry seconds won 31-14.

The Tigers lost to Bethany 64-51 Saturday night at Bethany.. The winners held a 34-24 half lead. Flynn, Carpenter and Dickerson furnished the Tiger offensive punch. The little Tigers lost 32-28.

The Florence reserves won 47-27.

Hebron 57 - Ludlow 52

Hebron won a 57-52 overtime game with the Ludlow Panthers at Hebron last Tuesday night. The Cards led 25-22 at the half and the count was knotted 49-49 at the end of regulation time. Carver topped the Cards with 17 points and Feeno had 15 for Ludlow.

This is a diesel ...a modern locomotive that means better service to you.
Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ...a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

● Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman aits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol.

Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employes—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.

These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

CREEL LIMIT INCREASED

The daily creel limit for crappie (or newlight) fish has been increased from 15 to 30 and the possession limit on the second day in succession of fishing has been boosted from 30 to 60, Earl Wallace, director of the Division of Game and Fish announced.

The change was made, with the concurrence of the Kentucky Game and Fish Commission, after it was found by Division personnel that the increase in this type fish in Kentucky water warrants such action. The authority to make changes in creel and bag limits and dates for hunting and fishing was granted the director and the Commission under the Kentucky Revised Statutes 150.025, subsection 4 of House bill 283 which was approved by the 1948 General Assembly.

Last year the size limit was removed from this specie of fish, Mr. Wallace reminded, and points out that the new regulation applies to the entire state but affects only the crappie (or newlight) specie.

Safety Advised When Using Electric Appliances

"Put both hands to work" is one of the simple rules for saving time and labor on household jobs which has been stressed recently in studies of efficiency in housework, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. For example, woodwork can be washed faster if one hand washes while the other dries, and such routine tasks as table setting and putting away dishes go faster and easier with both hands at work.

But when it comes to using electric equipment, the Rural Electrification Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture advises against using both hands for different task at the same time. For safety when handling any electric appliance or when changing a fuse, avoid touching anything else. If the appliance happens to be worn or otherwise defective, causing a short circuit, there is always danger of shock. But there is less chance of severe shock, if one hand is free—or is not touching anything else. Electricity seeks the shortest and easiest route to make it circuit to the ground, and should be prevented from making that circuit thru the body from one hand to the other.

Here are examples of two-handed hazards: One hand is running a vacuum cleaner and the other moves a metal lamp out of the way. If either of those appliances happen to have a loose wire or other defect, the current may run through the body.

In the bathroom and kitchen, special care must be taken because electricity travels through water. when turning on an electric light with one hand, take care not to touch water or the metal water faucet with the other. Be sure hands are dry when handling any electric equipment, and make sure that the floor is dry too. Cement floors often appear dry when they hold enough moisture to be shock hazards. Never touch a radio, portable electric heater, other electric appliance or even to turn on lights when in the bathtub or when washing dishes or clothes.

A STRANGE LETTER

The clipping below was found among the possessions of Avalon Dandridge's grandmother, the late Mrs. Addie Ryle, and it is believed that it appeared in an issue of The Recorder of 1911.

A letter purporting to have been written by Christ after the crucifixion and deposited by Him under a stone at the foot of the cross is being given wide circulation by the newspapers of the country. Mrs. C. O. Friend, of Cherryvale, Kansas, has clipped it from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and asked the Denver Post reprint it.

An injunction to have the letter published has frightened some into whose hands it has fallen, and like the old chain prayer it threatens misfortune on those who deliberately withhold it from others. The belief that Christ really gave the letter to be spread broadcast has inspired many to aid in giving it publication. The story is that a little child turned the stone under which the letter was hidden and that the document was given to a convert to the Christian faith.

This convert kept it as a sacred momento of Christ and down through generations in his family it was until 1000 years were passed. Misfortune attended the family always, according to the tale, and at last one of the members came to America, bringing the letter with him. Mrs. Fannie Wortman, of Marlon, Indiana, came to know the history of the document from that time on. According to her, the owner of it went to Virginia and after a series of misfortunes the last of the family passed out.

A Mrs. Thompson, a neighbor of the family, took the letter and had it published in the Rome (Ga.) Tribune of October 31, 1891. Mrs. Wortman cut it out and kept it in her home. She made no attempt to have it republished until lately and she says she was punished for her failure to give it publicity.

Mrs. Rubin Crutchfield, of Tresvant, Tenn., is another who says she suffered misfortune until she printed the letter. The document reads:

"Whosoever works on the Sabbath day shall be cursed. I command you to go to church and keep holy the Lord's day without any manner of work. You shall not idle or misspend your time in dedecking yourselves in superfluities of costly apparel and vain dressing, for I have ordered it a day of rest. I will have that day kept holy that your sins may be forgiven you.

"You will not break my commandments, but observe and keep them, they being written by my hand and spoken from my mouth. You shall not only go to church yourselves, but also your man-servant and maid-servant. Observe my word and learn my commandments.

"You shall finish your work every Saturday at six o'clock in the afternoon, at which hour the preparation for the Sabbath begins. I advise you to fast five Fridays in the year, beginning on Good Friday and continuing the Fridays following, in remembrance of the five bloody wounds I received for you and mankind.

"You shall love one another and cause them that are not baptized to come to church and receive the holy sacrament—that is to say, baptism and the supper of the Lord, and be made a member thereof, and in so doing I will give you long life and many blessings. Your land shall be replenished and bring forth abundance and I will comfort you in the greatest temptation, and surely he that doeth to the contrary shall be cursed.

"I will also send hardness of heart on them, and especially on hardened and unpenitent unbelievers. He that hath given to the poor shall find it profitable. Remember to keep holy the Sabbath day, for the seventh day I have taken as a resting day to myself.

"And he that hath a copy of this letter, written by my own hand and spoken from my own mouth and keepeth it, without publishing it to others, shall not prosper, but he that publisheth it to others shall be blessed by me, and if their sins be as many as the stars at night and if they truly believe that they shall be pardoned, and they that believe not this writing and my commandments will have my plagues upon you, and you will be consumed with your children, goods, cattle and all other worldly enjoyments that I have given you. Do but once think of what I have suffered for you—if you do, it will be well for you in this world and the world which is to come.

"Whosoever shall have a copy of this letter and keep it in their house, nothing shall hurt them, neither pestilence, lightning or thunder, and if any woman be in birth and put her trust in me she shall be delivered of her child. You shall hear no more news of me, except through the Holy Scriptures, until the judgment. All goodness and prosperity shall be in the house where a copy of this letter shall be found. Finished."

February 11 marks the birthday of Thomas Alva Edison, the man who first brought me to light as a servant of mankind.

Thanks to his invention of the incandescent lamp, I bring sight-saving light to homes, farms and industries everywhere.

His pioneer steam power plant, built in 1882, has grown into the vast electrical industry of today, multiplying my ability to serve you a millionfold.

Today, I am doing more work for more people at lower hourly wages than ever before.

Many of the services I perform were unknown when Edison died in 1931. But they all stem from his genius. My hat's off to him as the father of electric service and great benefactor of mankind.

I LIKE TO WORK WITH MY OWN TOOLS

"I certainly wouldn't want to farm with a borrowed tractor. I like to work with my own tools.

"That's the reason why . . . when I need financing for land, improvements, or any long-term farm need . . . I get a Federal Land Bank loan through my own National Farm Loan Association.

"You see, my own association . . . and every other cooperative National Farm Loan Association in the country . . . are owned by farmers! So . . . I'm using my own tools even in financing!

"I can borrow money at a low interest rate . . . on terms which are adapted to farming . . . and my repayment plan takes into consideration my normal capacity to pay."

Yes . . . using your own local National Farm Loan Association for financing is just like working with your own tools on your own farm. It makes good farm sense!

Conservation Conversation

By J. C. Acree

Our Resources

When the white man discovered the new world and returned to his homeland, the stories he told about his findings would be classed as a little shady these days. Some said that they had found the Fountain of Youth, others a land flowing with milk and honey, while other said, "Utopia."

We were taught in school these pioneers were honest, respectable, brave, God-fearing people. However, a new look changes the picture. We wonder now if they were not about as extravagant a generation as has people the new world. It is said that a gift isn't appreciated as much as that which you have worked hard for.

Anyway, when the white man landed on American soil he found resources very plentiful. Forests, minerals, soil, cool clear water. He built his home at the foot of a hill so he would be modernistic and have running water. This practice of building near water was the verge in Boone County. The largest hotel in Northern Kentucky was at Big Bone springs.

After these early settlers had feasted on venison and wild turkey they began to think about crops and what they might make and do with them. Acre after acre was cleared by cutting and burning so they could grow maize and tobacco. These crops were much in demand in the old world—and too, some of the by-products were imbibed no doubt in this country. We became very prosperous. We built a great merchant marine. Our resources began to move across the ocean to be in company with. Plowing over the hill, never reseeding, and scraping the platter has presented us this picture. What we can do about this will be discussed from time to time in this column.

A new look is fairly gratifying. Eroded areas aren't as prevalent as they were a few years ago. Hundreds of ponds, stocked with fish, have practically eliminated the water tank brigade to the city faucet. Right land use, that is, indicate many animals died here. Well Boone county grew and also became an export county. Old reports say that ten after ten of hay were hauled to Cincinnati. This in addition to tobacco, corn and livestock were coming out of our stock pile "the soil." Later, however, several farmers began hauling manure back. However, most of the loads seldom got back to Boone county, but was used by truck gardeners in and around Ft. Mitchell.

Yet, exports of our number one resource is but a small percentage compared to the loss by erosion. While man was loading on his wagon our valuable resources, by his assistance a larger part invisible at first was going down the slope into the valley and eventually the ocean. A careful look at the old home place now will show you figures that algebra or calculus wouldn't the form of lumber, tobacco, whiskey, fires, and numerous other raw products. As each pound of these products sailed away a proportionate amount of our vital minerals left. Suppose the old country had saved only the waste from the products shipped from America. They would now have a soil so deep in organic material and minerals to be able to feed themselves, and no doubt be exporters.

Let's go on. Into Kentucky these venturesome people came, cutting, burning, and a "shootin'" on into Boone County. Daniel must have made a hit with these Northern Kentucky folks for they named the county in honor of him.

This was truly a hunter's paradise, even for hundreds of years before the white man's visit. Bones from prehistoric animals were found here, so large the ribs were used to place their tents over rather than to cut poles for this purpose. A few relics are still found in this section showing as yet, it was a place animals came to drink of the mineral waters. Recent soil tests made of this area show heavy amounts of phosphate which would cropping practically level fields and leaving hills in sod, has helped. More cover crops has slowed down erosion and leaching. Terraces are carrying water around the hill at a slow rate of speed rather than going rampant down the hill. Mowing of pastures has improved sods. Reclaiming of bushy pasture can be noticed occassionally. Lime and phosphate spreading is a must job in Boone County. Will you help?

Strong Baseball League Expected In County This Year

Eight Teams Have Been Entered To Date; Meeting Set February 21st

Boone County baseball fans can expect one of the strongest Saturday afternoon leagues in history next summer. A new eight or ten team league is being formed by some of the county's strongest nines with veteran baseball men directing the show.

Already Big Bone, Verona, Belleview, Petersburg, Florence, Union, Burlington and Constance have entered teams. At the league's next meeting Monday evening, February 21, 8:00, at the courthouse in Burlington other entries are expected.

At this important meeting league officials will be elected. A representative of the Queen City Officials Association will also be present to outline plans for high class game umpires. Contracts for players signature will also be issued to team managers.

According to those organizing the new league, it will be patterned after the set up used by the better semi-pro and amateur leagues of Greater Cincinnati. Team forfeits will be posted and a generous sum will be awarded the top teams plus a trophy to the winners.

The league will be closed for all entries on the next meeting night, "so be present if interested," officials stated.

Fellowship Supper Planned Saturday Night, February 19

According to word received from Rev. A. C. Young of the Bullittsville Christian Church, the monthly Fellowship supper of that church, usually scheduled for the last Wednesday night, will be held on Saturday night, February 19th, instead. This change was made necessary to secure the presence of Rev. Claude McDonald of the Petersburg Christian Church.

Brother McDonald had the distinction of attending the World Council for Churches held in Amsterdam, Holland, a few months ago. On Saturday night he will bring an interesting account of his experiences on that journey and Brother McDonald's usual forceful manner will be even more vividly reinforced through the presentation of slide pictures made by him on the trip.

This supper on the 19th will have a triple meaning inasmuch as the following week is to be observed not only as Brotherhood Week, but also as the Week of Compassion. President Truman, in endorsing Brotherhood week which is observed by people of all faiths and denominations, calls upon the nation to be guided by "that brotherhood which springs from the Fatherhood of God and which offers true glory to our nation and hope to all mankind.

The program of the Fellowship supper proper is being presented under the Primary Class sponsorship and an interesting pageant is included in their plans.

All members and friends of the Bullittsville Christian Church are not only invited but urged to attend the Fellowship supper and really make the occasion all that its title implies.

Two Hundred Fifty Farmer-Directors and Officers Present

C. Liston Hempfling, Constance, vice president and director of Northern Kentucky Production Credit attended the Fifteenth Anniversary Production Credit meeting at Louisville, Ky., on February 8 and 9th.

Attending the meeting were some 250 farmer-directors and officers of all the Production Credit Associations in Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, and Ohio. The group heard such nationally prominent speakers as W. A. Minor, assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture; I. W. Duggan, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration; and C. R. Arnold, Production Credit Commissioner.

Farmers in the eight Northern Kentucky counties served by the Northern Kentucky P. C. A. received high praise for "progress made toward the goal of complete farmer ownership and operation" of their association.

F. L. Kerr, president of the District Supervising Corporation at Louisville, commended the association for having paid back to the government $118,000 borrowed to help it get started. The Association plans to repay the government in full just as quickly as possible.

Speaking of the effect of today's high farm operating costs on the uses of credit, Production Credit Commissioner, C. R. Arnold, Washington, D. C., said, "I wouldn't be surprised to see the business of the Production Credit Associations exceed a billion dollars in 1949. There is a continuing increase in the cost of farm operations and the things which farmers have to buy do not show many signs of being cheaper in 1949. All more good farmers each year recognize the good features of the P. C. A. in their area."

Time Will Tell

Nothing that could be called alarm is disturbing the business world. However, there is a great deal less unquestioning belief that the postwar boom is going to continue for an indefinite period to come.

A good many of the signs are pointing down now. There was a noticeable drop in employment during the last months of 1948, and jobs are nowhere near as easy to find as they once were. As 1949 opened, prices were lower than at the beginning of the preceding year—the first time that has happened in 10 years. One automobile manufacturer announced a substantial cut in production, due to the fact that new cars were piling up in their dealers' warehouses. In a long list of lines consumer resistance is noticeable, and a buyer's market is setting in. In almost all lines, more and more consumer caution has been evident. Savings are down, and installment purchasing has increased. In enterprises which live on luxury spending—entertainment, vacation travel, furs and jewelery, etc.,—the drop in business has been relatively heavy.

This poses a question which only time can answer. Is the decline from the postwar peak simply a normal and inevitable adjustment following an avalanche of spending for goods which were completely unobtainable for years? Or is it the start of a serious business setback that could run into a real depression? Most of the economists still favor the first view. But they have their fingers crossed.

One theory holds that a depression of the extreme type, such as that of the '30s, is no longer possible—that the government is now geared to immediately prime the pump and through spending and various controls keep the machine ticking at a good rate until normal economic forces for the better could again take over. But that is strictly a theory, and no one really knows how it would work out in practice. Few people are willing to bank on it for their economic salvation.

The change in the business picture, small as it has been, seems to be making itself felt in some congressional circles. As an example, a considerable list of lawmakers, look with little favor on more taxes, either on individuals or corporations, on the grounds that they might act as a deterrent to production and plant expansion.

Advertising Is Coming Up

A little whirl around the circle shows that the advertising agencies are broadening their fields and it would not be at all surprising to find many national products advertised in local papers in most parts of the nation within the next few months. Of course the agencies are always glad to spread out and include family newspapers but too many large organizations and institutions will never recover from the delusion that if they plant their copy in a dozen big cities that they have told the World—but as a matter of fact the home newspapers, read by every member of the family is the greatest advertising field of all. And any high-minded public relations institutions will never get by until they give more attention to these family newspapers outside the metropolitan districts.

Somewhat Different

Prices used to jump up overnight at the store but now if there is a change—prices are lower. A well known authority in Washington says it is a fact that the cost of living is on the way down! Perhaps this is due to the fact that goods of all kinds are suddenly abundant—all the way from fuel oil and gasoline to motor vehicles.

The Government reports to the effect that farmers have had a big income boom which is now followed by a gradual squeeze.

There have been terrific fluctuations in prices for a long time and that brought about many price declines of 30 to 50 per cent. The indications are that we are coming back as a nation to old standards.

All we can do is hope for better conditions, and as long as living costs and basic supplies are cheaper it may be that Mr. and Mrs. can make the grade and begin living again, as usual.

SHEEP PRODUCTION PROJECT ANNOUNCED

A state-wide "lamb on pasture" project to encourage sheep production has been launched by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

As outlined by Richard C. Miller, the plan includes prizes for farmers producing the largest number of pounds of lamb per ewe before July, also before December, and for farmers having the highest gross income per ewe for the year from the sale of lambs and wool.

Three sizes of flocks will be included—30 to 50 ewes, 51 to 100 ewes and over 100 ewes. Also there will be competitions among three classes of counties—those having more than 15,000 ewes, counties with 5,000 to 15,000 ewes and counties with less than 5,000 ewes.

Shows will be a part of the contest. In them are to be classes for carloads and groups of 30, 10 and five lambs.

Awards, aside from cash prizes contributed by lamb marketing agencies, packers and other persons and concerns, will include gold certificates for farmers producing 120 pounds or more of lamb per ewe, silver certificates for farmers producing 110 to 119 pounds of lamb per ewe, and bronze certificates for farmers producing 100 to 109 pounds of lamb.

As the name of the contest indicates, the lambs must be raised on pasture, except that early lambs may be creep-fed until spring pasture is ready, but not later than May 15.

WHEAT COVER HELPS CHECK SOIL EROSION

Erosion losses from land in winter wheat are only about a quarter as much as on the same land standing over winter in corn stubble, according to Lyle B. Leonard of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. An Ohio report stated that corn stubble land lost nearly 10 tons of soil an acre each winter, while fields in wheat lost only 2.4 tons.

Cornstalks left on land help to protect it, Leonard said, especially if they are rolled or disked down. A cornstalk mulch will not only save soil but also rainfall, by keeping the soil from completely sealing, he added.

Weak Feet Affect Body

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

When feet are permitted to pronate inwardly, the bony structure of the foot goes down, shutting off the nerve and blood supply in the bottom of the foot. When you cramp or choke the blood stream and slow up circulation there is a lack of bone repairs; chemical deposits, or waste matter form at the joints. Next inflammation sets in at these joints causing pain. That inflammation is often mistaken for rheumatism, arthritis and many other ailments. Altho when you cramp the blood supply you shut off the food supply to the nerve.

When nerves are impoverished, muscle tone is impaired because sensory nerves which in turn control the muscles. When muscles in the feet have lost their tonicity due to impoverishment of the nerves, feet are no longer mechanically held in normal position.

Surgical shoes give support to the vital arches in the feet releasing cramped nerves and blood vessels to promote better circulation. Gradually as circulation improves, muscles grow strong and regain their tonicity.

With feet health improved the person feels better all over. Research has shown that as long these culprits-nerves, diseases are indirectly caused by bad feet.

Don't take chances with your health, happiness, and peace of mind. With foot comfort you'll live longer and feel better.—Adv.

A warm spring day and you ride out to the field in your brand-new Farmall Cub tractor . . . flip a tiny lever with your finger . . . and down goes the plow! A big, shiny ribbon of soil rolls over . . . yessir, even working's fun with a Farmall Cub!

A fellow east of town said to me, "My kids are always scrapping about who's going to drive the Farmall Cub. How I wish we'd had machines like that when I was a kid. My poor feet sure took a beating!"

Yes, folks, that's what a lot of people are saying since they bought their Farmall Cub . . . and they know that any time parts or service are needed, I'm always here.

Planning

The adage, "Plan your work—work your plan" is one of the musts in farming. The farmer's plan must be very flexible. In fact he should have two plans; a wet one and a dry one, so to speak. All farmers are well aware of the seasonal jobs to be done and it is essential that they be carried through sometimes within a week's period. With these seasonal periods pretty well set he can plan his outside dry program and always have sufficient fill-in jobs to take care of the off days. A farm program of work must be so flexible that a different job can be started in a moment's notice.

After the tobacco stripping season is over the 1955 year's plan of work will begin. Morning and night chores are pretty well run on schedule the year around. Dairy farmers work on around the clock schedule because they must be thru milking in time to make connections with deliveries, and too, the cows respond to regular treatment. Boone county is fortunate in having a large number of dairy farms. It appears then after we have a day and a seasonal schedule we should look to our fill-in jobs. Why not jot down all the things to be done and try to place them in the most apt period of your seasonal schedule. You can start out by listing rainy day jobs and good weather jobs, including of course a planned vacation, fairs, picnics, etc. Some rainy day jobs are cleaning out barns and buildings, carpenter and blacksmith work, and numerous other inside jobs. Even going to town for supplies on rainy days is essential but can be badly abused. Then there are many days when it is too wet to work in crops or cropland preparation but will be ideal weather to mow pastures, pile loose rock, cut bushes, build or repair fences, work on small drainage areas, maintain terraces and diversions, etc.

In the summer and fall when it is reasonably dry, ponds, terraces and diversion ditches can be constructed. All these odd jobs carried out will do more toward improving your farm than by excessive cropping. One dry weather job not listed is the spreading of lime and phosphate which is essential in Boone County. A later article will be prepared on this subject.

Ten years from the Pioneers school were entered in the annual soil conservation essay contest sponsored by Louisville papers and radio station. There will be several thousand entries from Kentucky and southern Indiana. The subject this year "For better soil and better health—and what is my school's part in the soil Conservation's district program."

Forty-six reservations were made for a luncheon at the Ivy Rayen school Wednesday, Jan. 12th. This was the annual district supervisors' meeting comprising the fifth cooperational district. An inspection of the work done on the Lansing Huey farm last fall during the Soil Conservation Contest was the highlight of the morning session and in the afternoon the annual report plus an interesting program. Mr. A. Threlkeld is the district chairman. By the way, he was selected as one of the men of the year by Progressive Farmer.

Twenty-Six Towns Have Air Markers

Goal Is To Have Markers At Every Kentucky Town; Progress Being Made.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3—The Kentucky Department of Aeronautics today announced that its goal of having every community in Kentucky properly "air-marked" is making substantial progress.

The Department's Safety Director, Charles R. Beatty, said that twenty-six towns already have markers that meet Civil Aeronautics Administration requirements and that work is going ahead in seventeen other communities.

The markers in the communities where work is finished have been supplied either by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Department of Aeronautics, a private oil company or civic groups.

To spur on the program the Kentucky Air Marking Association, with headquarters at Lexington, has been organized with civic and industry representatives composing it. A standard air marker consists of the name of the town, latitude and longitude separated by a true north arrow and an airport directional symbol indicated the nearest usable airport.

Beatty explained that Louisville, Lexington and some other towns are in no need of the standard type air marker where radio facilities, control towers and other facilities exist.

Eleven Immortals

Lesson for February 20, 1949

JESUS BELIEVED in prayer, but he did not usually spend all night at it. When he did, we may be sure he had something of the greatest importance on his mind. One of these occasions was the night before he selected the twelve men he called Apostles. He had thousands of disciples, crowds followed him wherever he went. But it was important to have a few with whom he could live as an intimate friend. So from the immense number of followers, Jesus selected twelve closest friends. Before that fateful morning no one outside their villages had ever heard of them. But now their names are known—and eleven of them are honored—around the world.

Dr. Foreman

Jesus Multiplies Himself

A GOOD executive, Jesus multiplied his own personality. A recent book has shown how Harry Hopkins during World War II lived in the White House as Roosevelt's personal companion, having given up his own ambitions and living only to carry out the ideas of his chief. Without Roosevelt, Hopkins would have been little more than an inferior politician; and without Hopkins, many of Roosevelt's plans could not have been carried out. He enabled the president to be in two places at once. So it was with Jesus, as Mark tells us. Jesus wanted those twelve to be with him, and then to send them out.

He wanted these friends to know him as the crowds, and his enemies, never could know him. He wanted these men to absorb his ideas and ideals.

By continual contact, day by day and month by month, they would inevitably become more like him. Because of that, he could (and later did) send them out to do his work in places he could not reach. The word Jesus used for them was not his own invention; "apostle" was the word used all over the civilized world in those days for an ambassador, a personal representative of royalty. All Christians are in the "apostolic succession." If a Christian can truly say, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me," then he is, as these men were, Christ's personal representative.

Raw Material

THE ASTONISHING thing about Jesus' choice of these twelve is his faith in them. Of course they had faith in him—who would not? But who would have faith in them? There was not a single "outstanding" man in the lot. Not one had what we would call a college education, not a man of them had held public office or was rich or famous for anything at all. The officers of any modern church might shake their heads over them.

There was Peter, an ordinary fisherman, much given to profanity; there was Matthew, a crooked business man if ever there was one, for no publican could be honest and keep from starving; there was Philip, as stupid a man as ever asked a foolish question; there were James and John, loud-mouthed (Jesus nicknamed them the Thunder Boys—"Sons of Thunder"), greedy fellows who could not be satisfied till they had elbowed their way ahead of everybody else; there was Thomas the born pessimist, the defeatist . . . What could have got into Jesus' mind to select such men?

—And Judas Iscariot

THE SECRET of Jesus' choice was this: He selected his men not for what they were or had been, but for what they could become, filled with his spirit, transformed by his friendship. It is so today, as always. The Kingdom of God needs men and women, but the raw human material found in or out of the churches is too shabby and weak to build anything like the kingdom of God. "Twelve Immortals"—? Nay, but one is the immortal betrayer and sulcide. Why? The reason was in Judas, not in Jesus.

The truth is that Christ will not force himself on any one, not even on an Apostle. Christ needs men, now, as he needed men then, to carry on his work" in this world.

But he wants volunteers, never forced labor. The Christ of Glory can be served by the humble; but the free Christ can be served only by free men with open hearts. Judas may keep his heart shut if he will; Christ never forces his way in.

GIRLS TO SHOW BEST OWN-MADE OUTFIT IN 4-H DRESS REVUE

Fashion forecast . . . definitely more feminine!

Well, Kentucky 4-H Club girls won't be all dressed up in "buttons and bows" when they model a costume of their own making in the forthcoming 1949 annual 4-H Dress Revues, but they will be wearing the most becoming styles in work, school and party clothes. Kentucky's acceptance of the program has been announced by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. This activity is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

All the fun, excitement and accomplishment afforded by the Dress Revue—to say nothing of the economy—has made it one of the most popular contests among 4-H girls, according to reports of State Club leaders and the girls themselves. Based on a five-point plan, objectives of the 1949 program are, namely: (1) find out just what sort of clothes are need; (2) learn what to wear and when—all within the family budget; (3) acquire the know-how to plan, assemble and care for clothes; (4) select costumes with an eye to individuality; (5) last but not least, develop poise and habits of good grooming.

Again this year Simplicity Pattern Co. will provide all awards in the National 4-H Dress Revue program totaling $11,180. They include silver medals for county winners and an all-expense trip to the 1949 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for state winners. All state winners modeling outfits in the Dress Revue presentation at the 4-H Club Congress will receive a handsome leather-cased scissors set.

Last year more than 13,800 4-H girls throughout the state participated in the Dress Revue contest.

TRACTOR COURSES FOR 4-H LEADERS

So they could teach 4-H club boys how to operate tractors, 34 club leaders from 27 counties attended a three-day course at the Experiment Station at Lexington. Sponsored by the Standard Oil Company, tractors were furnished by several local dealers, with representatives serving as instructors.

Among those attending were Charles Robert Kerby of Laurel county, 4-H state champion in tractor operation last year, and his club leader, Arza George.

HOME IMPROVEMENTS FOLLOW ELECTRICITY

The year 1948 will be remembered by Mrs. Ray Martin of Caldwell county and her family for the improvements made in their home. Following the installation of electricity in February, the Martins bought a refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, floor lamp, steam iron and toaster. They also installed a furnace and bathroom. Then they added a clothes closet for better storage, papered three rooms, the bathroom and hallway, painted two floors and varnished some woodwork. Mrs. Martin also converted 12 kerosene lamps for electric use.

A member of the Otter Pond Homemakers Club and former president of the Caldwell County Homemakers Association, Mrs. Martin was awarded a $50 bond by the Princeton Kiwanis Club in the annual county home improvement contest.

EXPERIMENT STATION DEVELOPS TOBACCOS

Following are general descriptions of varieties of tobacco developed by the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky.

Ky. 16—A stand-up white burley moderately resistant to black root-rot. Yield is heavy and quality is high if allowed to ripen. This is consistently the best money maker on the station plots.

Ky. 41A—Similar to Ky. 16 in yield and quality but of a more drooping type. Moderately resistant to black root-rot.

Ky. 22—A stand-up white burley highly resistant to black root-rot. Yield is considerably lower than Ky. 16. Quality is high.

Ky. 24—A drooping type of white burley similar to Warner in plant characters. Moderately resistant to black root-rot. Yield is below that of Ky. 16. Quality is high.

BB. 13 and BB. 14-46—These are white burley varieties highly resistant to black root-rot that were derived from a cross with Golden Burley and a highly root-rot resistant burley. Yield is lower than Ky. 16 but quality appears to be high.

Ky. 56—A stand-up white burley highly resistant to black root-rot. Yield is slightly lower than Ky. 16 and quality is about equal. It is resistant to mosaic.

F 17 A-46—This white burley variety is resistant to fusarium wilt, moderately resistant to black root-rot and resistant to mosaic. Yield is nearly equal to Ky. 16. It does not seem to blow down in wet windy weather as Ky. 35 and Ky. 34 did. Quality is good. This variety is recommended for wilt sick soils.

BB. 50 and BB. 57-46—Two stand-up burley varieties highly resistant to black root-rot and mosaic. Yield is below Ky. 16. The quality of both is good.

Ky. 150—A dark fire-cured variety resistant to mosaic. It is rapidly gaining in favor in the dark-fired areas.

Ky. 161—A mosaic-resistant One Sucker. The quality and yield appears to be at least equal to the best of the One Sucker varieties.

Revision Commission Named By Clements

Will Suggest Changes To Better Constitution; Necessity Apparent.

Gov. Earle C. Clements has named a Constitutional Revision Commission of seven lawyers of relatively high attainment in the profession to make a study of constitutional revision and to recommend to the General Assembly desirable changes in the present instrument.

"Practically everyone recognizes serious defects in the present Constitution—even among those who have felt a constitutional convention unnecessary," said Governor Clements.

"The necessity for some change is apparent. The men I have named to study the problem are persons of integrity and standing in the community from whence they hail, and long recognized for their legal attainments. They are amply qualified to interpret the Constitution and to see its shortcomings as well."

"The General Assembly itself must propose whatever amendments are deemed desirable, but the advice of men of this caliber should always be welcome. Needless to say the Commission includes fair-minded men who were members of opposing sides in the recent constitutional convention discussions and represent divergent schools of thought."

While the personnel of the commission is composed entirely of lawyers it is considered likely that they will consult with laymen from all the professions in making recommendations.

The Revision Commission will serve without pay and solely in an advisory capacity.

Named to the Commission were: Judge Ira D. Smith, Hopkinsville, Circuit Judge of the Christian-Trigg-Calloway judicial district for twenty-two years, former member of the General Assembly.

James W. Stites, Louisville, former Judge of the Court of Appeals, long a leader in the legal profession, and active opponent of a constitutional convention call in 1947.

James R. Milliken, Fort Thomas, former member of the General Assembly and Workmen's Compensation Board; long-time member State Board of Bar Commissioners.

BULLITTSVILLE HOMEMAKERS

One of the creeds of the Homemakers' Club is to help one another. This was graciously accomplished last week when Miss Johnnie Mae Terrill, of Petersburg gave the lessons on hooked rug patterns to the Bullittville Club which met at the home of Mrs. Cordella Patrick.

Mrs. Lee Marshall presided. Mrs. Thomas McCrann read her witty minutes, including a detailed account of the community party in which she reported that a certain grandmother did a tap dance. After that, however, more serious matters were discussed such as committee reports and voting to send Mrs. Marshall to Farm and Home Week.

Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie was with us in the morning. Others present besides those already mentioned were Miss Belva Ann Engle, Mrs. Burnam Roberts, Mrs. Chester Grant, Mrs. Arthur Nichols, Mrs. Nick Mikkelson, Mrs. Fred Bond, Mrs. A. B. Ligon, Mrs. Albert Pfalzgraf, Mrs. Earl Souther, Mrs. Ray Hill and Mrs. W. E. Jones.

William Hughes, farmer veteran of Clay county, has a flock of 300 White Leghorn pullets, from which he is getting an average of 200 eggs a day.

HOFFMANS ENTERTAIN

Masters and sons Carroll Lee and Donald and daughter Margie, Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Masters and daughter Sandra, of Bromley; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Masters and son Terry, Mrs. Dorotha Goodridge and daughter Janet, Mrs. Myrtle Hoffman and Mrs. Mattie Simpson.

Local Dodge Dealer Attends Preview Showing Of New Dodge Cars

Earl M. Aylor, proprietor of Hebron Motors, Hebron, Ky., has returned from Cincinnati where he attended a dealer preview of the completely new-styled Dodge cars, the first models of which will be publicly displayed in his dealership on Friday, February 25. Mr. Aylor was accompanied by Carlton Bradford Service manager and Earl G. Aylor, parts manager.

Mr. Aylor said that although detailed information of the appearance and many engineering and mechanical improvements introduced in the new Dodge could not be revealed prior to the public showing, there are certain general facts concerning the comfort-engineering story behind the new Dodge styling that can be disclosed at this time.

"The primary considerations that influenced the design of the new Dodge were Army statistics which showed that the G. I.'s of World War II were taller, bigger, and more active than their predecessors of World War I," Mr. Aylor said. "As a result, it was apparent that more passenger room, not less, was required in the modern automobile to comfortably accommodate our physically larger generation."

Mr. Aylor pointed out that the challenge to Dodge engineers was to design a car with more interior space and still reduce exterior dimensions to eliminate difficulties of handling in traffic, parking, and garaging.

To learn how Dodge succeeded in meeting this challenge and at the same time produced a car with an entirely new and distinctive styling Mr. Aylor cordially invites everybody to his gala open house on February 25.

The Stepping Stones Class will meet Thursday night at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. John Marsh.

Route For Proposed New Airport Road Selected, Is Word

Project Will Be Put On This Year's Program, According To Reports.

An agreement has been reached for the new proposed airport by the State Highway Department and the Federal Bureau of Roads, according to reports released this week.

The new proposed highway will run from Florence slightly north of Erlanger and also north of Lakeside Park to a point near Ft. Mitchell, where it would generally follow the route of the Ft. Mitchell street car tracks to the vicinity of Pike and Montague street and Western avenue and thence swing to the end of the C & O bridge.

The highway project will be placed on this year's road program, it was announced. The only thing which will delay the construction of this new route will be the acquiring of rights-of-way.

The new highway will greatly facilitate the flow of traffic to the Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Gov. Clements Calls Special Session Of Legislature

Four Issues To Be Placed Before Group In Special Call; Month's Work Seen

Governor Earle C. Clements called the Kentucky legislature into a special session starting March 1, it was announced Tuesday. Four major issues will be faced by the legislators, namely:

(1) Laws relating to property assessment and property taxation changes, along with some changes in the method of distributing the common school equalisation funds.

(2) Appropriation of more money to the State Department of Welfare for patients and operation of state mental institutions.

(3) Revision of the 1948 bill creating the state building commission, so as to eliminate any doubt as to constitutionality of the $10,-000,000 commission.

(4) Increasing from 25 to 35 per cent the number of years rural electrification groups have to pay off loans from the federal government.

The General Assembly can act only on the legislation listed in the call. However, the Governor can amend the call from time to time to take up other governmental problems he deems critical.

No time limit is set on special sessions, but generally it has been estimated that this one will last about 30 days.

Administration sources have indicated there would be no effort to rush through any of the legislation proposed.

What Decision Will Be Reached?

U. S. News and World Report has published a summary of President Truman's social security plan, including estimates of what the cost would be now and in the future.

The program provides for government care and aid to individuals every step of the way from the cradle to the grave. Compulsory health insurance would pay the costs of birth, and during childhood medical and dental service would be provided. Federal grants to states would pay part of the cost of schooling, and if a child were orphaned the government would assume the financial responsibility. After the child grew up and went to work, the government would guarantee him disability assistance, extending up to a lifetime pension, if he were injured on the job, and unemployment payments if he were out of a job. He and his family would obtain medical care under the compulsory insurance system, and good subsidies would be given low-income groups. When he reached the retirement age of 65 he would be entitled to a life pension. At death, his funeral expenses would be met, at least in part, by a government check. Finally, his widow would be pensioned.

What would this all-inclusive program cost? As planned now, the maximum income to be subject to the payroll tax would be $4,800. Men in that income bracket would be assessed $264 a year, by 1955, to pay the social security bill, and the employer would contribute an equal amount, for a total of $528. This would come on top of income and all other taxes.

At present the payroll tax is 3½ per cent. According to U. S. News, it would have to be increased to 11 per cent by 1955 and to 18 per cent by 1990. There is always a possibility that estimates would have to be revised materially upward.

It is clear—whether or not one approves the program—that this concept of social security involves great changes in philosophy of government and in our economic system. The government would be given vast powers that it never had before. The effect of the program on individuals was expressed by the News in these words: "The trend . . . is toward a leveling of incomes, with a rising floor under the minimum income a family can receive, and a lower and lower ceiling on the maximum earnings an individual is permitted to keep." Those who want cradle-to-the-grave social security believe that trend is necessary and right. Those who oppose it feel that it would be dangerously destructive to enterprise and initiative. That is the basic problem Congress must decide.

Look At Russia

A Swiss economic journal recently published a study of how much working time the average man in various nations has to put in to earn enough to buy certain basic commodities. Russia was at one end of the scale and the United States at the other. It was found that a Soviet worker had to labor over an hour for the purchase price of 2½ pounds of bread, while the U. S. worker could earn enough in 15 minutes. That same Soviet worker required 580 hours for a suit of cloth. In this country, 28 hours was sufficient.

Many causes contribute to this amazing difference—such as the skill of American workmen, our advanced technology, and an economic system which rewards initiative and enterprise. There is still another cause which many of us may overlook—and that is the contribution of our living standards and purchasing power made by American retailing.

In Russia, there is no such thing as competition among stores. The state owns or controls them all, and stocks and prices are whatever the dictators think desirable. In this country retail competition is wide open. Chains, independents, big department stores and little specialty shops—every kind and character of store, is aggressively seeking consumer inducements—such as lower prices, special service, more varied and attractive displays, and so on. The result is that we get better goods, at a lower price, than any other kind of economy can provide. The consumer's income, even in a period of inflation, pays for all the necessities and leaves him a surplus for luxuries that would be undreamed of elsewhere.

Those who think a controlled economy would benefit the masses should look at Russia, where regimentation is complete. The result has been one of the lowest living standards on earth.

Children's Feet

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Ninety-nine out of a hundred babies are born with good feet, even if they do appear to be flat at the start. We say babies are born with flat feet because the bony masses in a new-born baby's feet are held in place by fat pads. As the baby starts to stand and walk, these fatty pads are absorbed and muscles take their place. But about the third year the arch of the foot should be pretty well defined if the child is going to have an arch. We say if, because everyone is not meant to have the same color of hair or eyes.

Perhaps when the child starts to stand he is overweight, or undernourished or has gone through a serious illness. In that event the muscles may not develop enough to produce an arch in the foot. He then grows with a natural flat foot. The condition is rarely painful. However, many cases of flat feet can be averted if the child is provided with shoes that hold the weak foot in alignment. Such shoes are usually wedged slightly under the inner border of the heel bone. This prevents tipping in of the ankles and by over correction has a tendency to cause the muscles on the inner border of the leg to shorten. These muscles are the ones which keep the foot arched.—Adv.

DODGE TO INTRODUCE NEW KIND OF CAR BUILT FOR TODAY'S BIGGER TALLER AMERICANS

Daring New Dodge establishes new trend . . . provides more head room, elbow room and leg room, at the same time decreasing outside dimensions. Extreme lines, uncomfortable seats and cramped interiors have no place in Dodge thinking.

"BODY-CRAMPING ROOF LINES MUST GO," said Dodge! Army physical exams revealed that our wartime generation was bigger, taller and more active. A car with more interior space—not less—is the goal Dodge engineers achieved.

Army statistics revealed that the G.I.'s of World War II averaged 1½" taller than the Doughboys of World War I. The same statistics showed they were also heavier and more active.

DODGE STARTED WITH A SPACIOUS INTERIOR—and practically built the rest of the car around it! Here is room to "room around in"—plenty of room to let the human body take positions that are natural and therefore comfortable.

DODGE SAID "NO" TO THIS . . . repairing dented or torn fenders is sure to be costly when fenders are formed right into grey masses of sheet metal. Now look below and see why Dodge owners don't have this worry.

TIRING? YES! Doctors agree that people can't go for long periods sitting on their spines without becoming tired, irritable. Dodge did something about this, too!

AH-H! RELAXING! Dodge "knee level" seat, shown above, puts the entire body in a natural position . . . with full leg support for restful, all-day comfort.

DOWN GO REPAIR COSTS! No costly-to-repair, massive sheet metal fender sections in new Dodges. Fender unit is bolted (not welded) to body; easily removed, repaired and even replaced, if necessary, at reasonable cost.

"NECK-CRICKING" CONTOURS ARE ALREADY OLD-FASHIONED," says Dodge. How can today's bigger, taller Americans be comfortable in a car where it's even hard to lean back or sit up straight?

DODGE ROOMINESS IS ROOM ALL AROUND...The new Dodge, shorter, narrower and lower, gives you more elbow room . . . leg room . . . head room . . . that today's bigger Americans will WELCOME!

LOWER ON THE OUTSIDE . . . Higher on the Inside • SHORTER ON THE OUTSIDE . . . Longer on the Inside

Saving Bond Plan Starts This Month For State Employees

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Earle C. Clements and State Treasurer Edward P. Seiller today announced installation of the Payroll Savings plan for state employees, a plan that during the war-time period resulted in purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds of $200,000 a month among state employed personnel.

The plan is being reinstalled beginning with this month. Employees and officials sign cards designating the sum to be withheld from their monthly checks to be applied toward the purchase of the Savings Bonds. The office of State Treasurer Seiller will make the deductions and purchase the bonds in the name of the employees.

Both the Governor and Mr. Seiller were given the U. S. Treasury award for outstanding volunteer service to the state and nation in promoting the sale of Savings Bonds, the award being presented by Norman L. Rockey, State Director, U. S. Savings Bonds Division, Treasury Department.

The Governor signed the first card for deduction of a stipulated sum each month for the purchase of bonds.

Rockey emphasized the security that goes with the regular purchase of Savings Bonds and how the individual purchaser benefits in laying aside a portion of one's earnings for future necessities.

"The Savings Bonds program is part of the Government's program for management of the public debt," Mr. Rockey explained, "and by the Savings Bonds program $13,000,000,000 in debt has been retired that would not have been had not the program been in effect.

"Kentuckians now own $516,000,000 in U. S. Savings Bonds. The amount brings in $14,224,000 to the citizens in interest income, effectively creating a new industry for the State. Citizens of Kentucky bought $8,224,939 worth of bonds last month.

"During the Security Loan Campaign of last year, Kentucky ranked ninth from the top in the whole United States."

Mr. Rockey expressed the conviction that many private business firms would follow the lead of the state government in either continuing or reinstalling the Savings Bond program. Many firms participated in the program during the war years but discontinued it following the war.

"We are hopeful that private industries which have never used the program, or for some reason or another have discontinued the Payroll Savings program among their personnel will follow the lead of the State government in this laudable venture," said Rockey.

"It not only provides for systematic saving on the part of the firm employees, but also aids a worthy cause—one that helps provide security for hundred of Kentuckians."

It was brought out that the plan was not compulsory but was a system in which state employees could be helped.

To help save immature corn, five Fleming county dairymen made straw silos holding 20 to 30 tons each.

Ideal World

Lesson for February 27, 1949

ANY MAN with a revolutionary new idea has to try to explain it. Jesus was no exception. As a young teacher of religion, he had to answer the question which older teachers were bound to put to him: If your teaching is new, how can it be true? And if it is true, what can be new about it? This was a fair question. The Sermon on the Mount is Jesus' answer to it. The main theme of that sermon is the kingdom of God, an ancient phrase but with new meanings as Jesus used it. We can say "The Ideal World" and mean just the same thing.

Dr. Foreman

The Right People

JESUS EMPHASIZES, above all, the kind of people who belong to God's Ideal World. This would be surprising to some modern planners. Communists think that if you can once get a world in which every one has enough to eat and drink and wear, a world where nobody is poor (or everybody is as poor as everybody else, which is all the same thing), you will have the perfect world. Jesus would know this is nonsense. You do not get the perfect world by improving the soil, or the system of government, or the economic system; you do not get it by passing laws of any kind. This does not mean that such things are unimportant—far from it.

But the fact is that even after you got your perfect social system, with perfect politics and perfect distribution of wealth, even a perfect climate and soil, you would still be nowhere near the Ideal World unless you have improved your people.

Is This You

WHAT WE call the "beatitudes" (Matt. 5:7-12) is Jesus' eight-point program for the citizen of the Ideal World. The right people are happy people, to begin with. (The word translated "Blessed" is a regular Greek word for "happy.") But the main difference between different kinds of people is not that some want to be happy while others do not.

Jesus' ideal people are humble, not proud; they see their sins and are sorry for them; they are "meek"—that is, they are not in a hurry to demand their own rights; they do not merely admire goodness, they are positively hungry for it; they are merciful, not careless or cruel; they are pure in heart and not only in speech and act; they are not mere peace-wishers or peace lovers (who isn't?) but peace makers; they are people who are brave enough to do what is right.

Salt

DO YOU really want an ideal world? The best way to begin is to learn how to be a citizen of such a world. Jesus uses two interesting simple words to describe the kind of people he means. You are salt, he said,—you are light. Salt and light are old-fashioned things but they have never gone out of date.

So there is no substitute for a really good Christian. Living, here and now, like citizens of the ideal world to come, Christians are both salt and light.

Salt because they give a taste to otherwise flat or bitter life. Salt because they keep human society from going rotten.

Light

AND LIGHT! Like salt, light ought not to be too noticeable. A glaring light is bad on the eyes, as too much salt is bad on the tongue. So a Christian is not supposed to rub his goodness in on other people, so to speak. He is as indispensable as salt in bread—and should be as inconspicuous. But light, like salt, if it is any good has to be applied directly. A strong light concealed in a steel tube does no good. Swishing the glass end of the salt-cellar around in the soup gives it no flavor. The salt must get into the soup, the light must touch what we see.

So the Christian, God's ideal citizen-in-training, can do the world no good by running away from the world.

If a Christian is going to leave this world better than he found it,—even a little bit farther on toward the Ideal World,—he must come into touch with the world, not to imitate it, but to change it.

WINS STATE CONTEST

Eleven O. I. C.-Chester White pigs raised by Lawrence Raffety of Taylor county were the champion litter in the 1948 Kentucky ton-litter contest conducted by county agents and the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

Weighing 2,755 pounds when 165 days old, the litter sold for $844.82. After allowing for the market value of wheat, barley, corn, milk and other feed, the litter returned a profit of $391.02. It also won $18 in prizes.

Forty-seven records of ton-litters were analyzed by Grady Bellards of the college.

The purpose of the ton-litter contest is the production of a ton or more of market hogs from a litter of pigs at five and a half months of age, Bellards explained. To reach this goal he said, requires balanced rations and good management.

C. V. Bryan, farm agent in Taylor county, said that 90 percent of the hog-raisers in that county had improved their methods as a result of the ton-litter contest.

Grow Better Chicks

FOLLOW THIS GUIDE
IN MANAGING YOUR CHICKS

Repair the brooder house. Eliminate drafts and make house easy to heat by plugging up cracks, repairing windows, etc.

Thoroughly clean and disinfect entire interior and all equipment. Use Dr. Salsbury's Par-O-San or Germex for disinfecting.

Cover floor with clean, deep, absorbent litter.

Start brooder stove a day or two in advance to see that it is working properly and to heat the house for chicks' arrival.

Erect a hover guard around the stove to keep chicks near source of heat. Move this back a little each day and remove after a week.

Give feed on egg flats for first day or two.

For faster growth, mix Dr. Salsburwy's Ren-O-Sal in the chicks' drinking water at rate of 2 tablets per gallon.

Provide ample watering and feeding space. After a few weeks, install larger feeders and waterers.

Change gradually from chick-starter to growing mash at 6 to 7 weeks.

Fine grit and oyster shell may be given after first few days.

Let chicks out of house occasionally after first 2 or 3 weeks, weather permitting.

Separate pullets and cockerels as early as possible.

Rake and turn litter several times weekly.

BROODER TEMPERATURES

1st week—90-92 degrees
2nd week—88-90 degrees
3rd week—85-88 degrees
4th week—80-85 degrees
5th week—75-80 degrees

The Soil

What is soil? An old dictionary gives this definition, "The upper layer of earth which may be dug or plowed." Might as well have added mined and abused. A definition more conservative by another publisher, says it is the loose surface material of the earth in which plants grow. Or any substance in which something may take root and grow.

Soils are made up of organic and inorganic material in various portions. Our mucky soils (prairie grass areas) are very high in organic matter while our Eden soils (outer bluegrass) are low in organic matter but high in minerals. Organic matter (humus) is derived from living organisms such as plants and animals. Inorganic means of course the opposite or any chemical element or compound occuring naturally, namely minerals.

Then a good soil would be one that contained the right proportions of organic and inorganic material and under favorable climatic conditions produce bountiful crops. This good soil would have enough organic matter in it to act as a blotter or water holding capacity. It must not, however, be soggy but well aerated so both plants and animals can live. It must have numerous mineral elements. Boone soils are deficient in calcium, potash, and phosphate on the average, however there are other elements our soils might be deficienient in. For example a small amount of boron applied to an alfalfa field give wonderful results.

Virgin soils are a thing of the past in Boone County but we have many accounts of the yielding crops grown by early settlers on these soils which were good soils. The humus accumulated from the decaying of plants and animals was very deep and minerals pulled up from the subsoil by plants were deposited on the top layer making this material readily available to the cultivated plants. We must keep these virgin soils in mind so that we may use them as a copy or pattern. Our goal then should be hold what we have and at the same time try to improve by remembering the copy.

Someone has said that it takes a thousand years for nature to make one inch of soil. Man, with the assistance of nature, can do the job much faster. In fact until recently man has been working against nature rather than with her.

Plant nutrient elements or plant food not only comes from the soil but from the air. Carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen make up more than nine-tenths of the dry weight of plants. Nitrogen from the air is available in the soil mostly because of legumes. Air is about four-fifths nitrogen. Some bright fellow says that there must be plenty of nitrogen everywhere except in the right place, meaning of course in the soil. It appears then with all these nutrients fairly accessible that it shouldn't be such a job to add the limiting elements and make a complete good soil. Man must be the caretaker. He must be a doctor, engineer, merchant, (not thief.) He must not put his shilling in hiding or waste it but use it wisely. The present rainy season can tell you how good a caretaker you are. Is the water leaving your farm, clear or yellow?

I LIKE TO WORK WITH MY OWN TOOLS

"I certainly wouldn't want to farm with a borrowed tractor. I like to work with my own tools.

"That's the reason why . . . when I need financing for land, improvements, or any long-term farm need . . . I get a Federal Land Bank loan through my own National Farm Loan Association.

"You see, my own association . . . and every other cooperative National Farm Loan Association in the country . . . are owned by farmers! So . . . I'm using my own tools even in financing!

"I can borrow money at a low interest rate . . . on terms which are adapted to farming . . . and my repayment plan takes into consideration my normal capacity to pay."

Yes . . . using your own local National Farm Loan Association for financing is just like working with your own tools on your own farm. It makes good farm sense!

PARKS

In the study of our land the Soil Conservation Service make eight major land use capability classes. The first three classes are used as crop land with good management to intensive soil conservation practices being recommended. The next three classes are to be used in the main for pasture with some cropping in a long rotation. The last two classes VII and VIII, should be used for controlled grazing, wildlife, woods, and for recreational purposes, such as park areas.

Fortunately or unfortunately we have in Boone County a great portion of classes VII and VIII land. Unfortunately a great deal of this land is being used as if it were in the first classes, which is merely abusing the land rather than using it wisely or according to good land use. In Boone county and adjoining thatwin we have four very distinct areas that are suitable for parks. Starting at the north side of the county from North Bend bottoms to the Lawrenceburg ferry road there is some very steep and wooded hills, overlooking the Ohio river. This area can be reached by two good roads and would be very desirable when the new bridge is completed.

On down the river at Belleview and up Middle Creek we have a valley that is fed with some of the best springs in Kentucky. Highway 18 on the west and the East Bend road on the south make this area readily accessable. A third very rugged area is along Gunpowder Creek. Already we have in this valley, Camp Ernst and the Boy Scouts of America Camp. This semi-wilderness can be reached from the Camp Ernst road or can be reached by macadam roads leading from U. S. 42 at Union.

The fourth area is of course the historic community known as Big Bone. The Big Bone and Muddick Creeks meander thru these hills and where there are creeks and rivers the topography is very rough.

Here, as one historian gives it, the first settlers came to Kentucky. Here, until it was torn down was the largest hotel in northern Kentucky. On the southwest we have the Ohio River with a large island. Just across Mudlick Creek and along the Ohio River in Gallatin County continue the long wooded bluffs and hills. This area can be reached by several roads leading off U. S. 42 at Duckhead, Southfork and up the river from Big Sugar. Also there are blacktop roads off U. S. 42 at Union and Beaver Lick. Then, too, someone has said that the superhighway from the Lawrenceburg bridge might lead thru this territory. But that isn't all. At Hamilton one of the oldest boat landings on the Ohio would be available for excursion boats from Cincinnati, Covington, Newport and other river towns.

Parks, of course, as we think of them are places of recreation, where we may go to enjoy the flora and fauna in the rough. In all these areas we have acreages of land that are suitable for other use. Valuable educational demonstrations could be developed. Mechanical structures such as terraces and lakes could be built. Large fishing and boating lakes could be built in any of these areas but especially the last site. Part of the class IV and VI land could be used for meadows and pasture. Good forest management demonstrations are sadly needed in northern Kentucky.

Here at the doorstep just inside the gateway to the South old mother nature has held together some fragments of pioneer days for your enjoyment. If Daniel Boone could awake as Rip Van Winkle did and start over his long and venturesome trip coming to these sylvan hills he would no doubt say "here I will make my home."

W. S. C. S. OF BIG BONE MET FEBRUARY 10TH

A covered dish luncheon was served and an hour of good fellowship was enjoyed by all.

The afternoon program was on the topic of "The Hawaiian Islands" being led by Mrs. Valis Hill. Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Alma Hamilton, Mrs. Fannie Miller and Mrs. Catherine Schwenke.

Mrs. Alma Hamilton, the president of the society, presided over the business meeting. The meeting was then closed by Mrs. Gertrude Jones dismissing with prayer.

The Burlington High School Eagles and the Walton Bearcats will share the 1948-49 Boone County League championship final results of the season's play reveals. Both teams have a six won and two lost record. The Eagles got their six victories at the expense of two from Hebron ,two from New Haven, and one each from Florence and Walton. Burlington closed out their season last week with two wins for a season's record of 20 wins against four losses and the top record for all teams in the 34th District. The Eagles' last two victories were at the expense of Covington Catholic (54-43) and New Haven (59-46). In the Covington-Eagle game the locals led all the way, holding a 27-17 halftime margin. McBee, with 21 points, and Ryle with 16, paced the winners. Ebelhardt had 21 for the visitors. Coach Maurer's quint pulled into a tie with the Walton Bearcats Saturday night via their win over Don Hill's charges from New HAven. Flynn paced New Haven with 16 followed by Dickerson with 12.

Tigers Split Two More

New Haven split even in two other games during the past week. They lost a 64-55 decision to St. Henry at Erlanger last Monday. The Tigers led 32-27 at the half but the Crusaders held a 43-40 third quarter lead. Flynn tossed in 28 points for New Haven and Dickerson added 12. For the winners Roth and Fleek divided 40 points. St. Henry reserves won 43-22.

The Tigers, with Flynn again showing the way, tripped Hebron last Wednesday at the loser's floor by a 53-51 count. The Tigers trailed until the last period and their winning points came on a fielder in the final three seconds of play. Flynn had 20 points and Dickerson had 13 for New Haven. Carver was high man for the night with 21 for the Cards.

Hebron rebounded Friday night from their New Haven encounter to win a 51-45 victory over St. Henry at Hebron.

Florence Knights got back into the winning column last week at the expense of two Fenogran quints, Crittenden and Dry Ridge. Tuesday night the Knights thumped Crittenden 47-41 in an overtime affair at Florence. Florence led 10-6 at the quarter and 20-11 at the half. Crittenden pulled to a 28-31 third period score and evened it up at 40-all at the close of the regulation time. Coach Bruner's Knights added 7 in the overtime while Crittenden got a free throw. Lipscomb had 14, Quinn 13 and Markesbery 10 for the winners. Delph with 14, Vallandingham with 13 and Early with 10 paced Coach Crowe's Bulldogs. Florence reserves won 27-22.

The Knights threw in everything but the team manager Friday night as they trimmed Joe' Reed's Dry Ridge team 71-38 at Dry Ridge. The Knights with Roland, Markesbery and England as the big offensive held a 24-1 quarter lead and were ahead 38-11 at the half. Florence reserves won 38-22.

Michigan Youths Arrested On Charge Of Looting School

$300 Damage Reported To New Haven School After Investigation.

William G. McWaters, 18 and Raymond E. Felix, 19, both of Detroit, Mich., were held under $2000 bond each Thursday for grand jury action after being arraigned in Judge C. L. Cropper's court on a charge of breaking and entering and possessing a stolen auto.

Troopers Robert Miller and Robert Gordon, assigned to the case arrested the youths Wednesday as the result of an investigation of an abandoned auto on U. S. 42 near the school building. The officers estimated damage to the school building at $300.

Miller and Gordon found burglary tools in the abandoned automobile and evidence that it had been stolen. They were informed by a truck driver that he had passed two boys walking toward Carrollton. State officers were notified to pick up the youth which were arrested at Carrollton.

MEAT SALT NOT DANGEROUS

"Special brandy of salt sold and used this fall to put up country cured meat are not the same as the poisonous salt substitutes removed from the market recently," Dr. Bruce Underwood, State Health Commissioner, has stated. The name of the special salt used for meat curing is similar to the name of one of the poisonous salt substitutes mentioned in dispatches recently. Worried farmers are inquiring whether or not their home-cured meat should be destroyed. "There is no good cause for this," Mrs. Sarah Vance Dugan, Director, Division of Foods, Drugs and Hotels, State Department of Health, says. The salt sold for curing meat was medium chloride, a pure salt sold in 25, 50 and 100 lb. bags and purchased by farmers for the purpose of meat curing. If the meat curing has been done properly, there is no danger involved. The products which were withdrawn from the market were sold only in drug stores in Kentucky in two ounce and 16 ounce packages.

Why Suffer With Your Feet?

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Our years of research have proven that foot comfort depends on foot balance.

For years men have been guessing about foot balance, putting steel supports under feet and elastic bands around feet, all sizes and shapes corn pads, plasters, callous plasters, etc. Yet people continue to suffer with their feet, legs, back and with various other aches and pains, resulting from feet in numerous cases, because they never had their body weight properly balanced on their feet with shoes.

—Your feet may look regular to you, but naturally you cannot detect weakness or have any way of testing for unbalance. But remember "fat on the ribs" is by no means an adequate criterion of physical well being.

Don't take chances. If you are suffering with leg pains, knee pains, stiffness, backaches or severe headaches, or sleep poorly and are always tired, your feet may be the cause.—Adv.

FRUIT AND LADINO MIXTURE PROFITABLE

Ode Mullins of Bracken county figures he made $40 an acre on 30 acres of Ky 31 fescue and ladino clover pasture. Warren Thompson, county agent, reports the story.

Mr. Mullins seeded his 30-acre field in the fall of 1946. In September, 1948, he turned 97 head of cattle in the field, leaving them there until Dec 10. During that time, they had no other feed. Mullins estimated the cattle put on a little more than 100 pounds per head, or a total of about 6,000 pounds, worth about 30 cents a pound. "Where else could a farmer make as much on a small investment and no work?" asked Mr. Mullins.

Bath county homemakers contributed 300 cans of milk in one month to the baby milk bank.

Here is what thoughtful people everywhere have been looking for and hoping for!

Here, at last, is a car that gives you all the best features of modern design without demanding sacrifices of your family's comfort, safety or convenience. It was designed to fit YOU . . . instead of you having to fit into it.

I LIKE TO WORK WITH MY OWN TOOLS

"I certainly wouldn't want to farm with a borrowed tractor. I like to work with my own tools.

"That's the reason why . . . when I need financing for land, improvements, or any long-term farm need . . . I get a Federal Land Bank loan through my own National Farm Loan Association.

"You see, my own association . . . and every other cooperative National Farm Loan Association in the country . . . are owned by farmers! So . . . I'm using my own tools even in financing!

"I can borrow money at a low interest rate . . . on terms which are adapted to farming . . . and my repayment plan takes into consideration my normal capacity to pay."

Yes . . . using your own local National Farm Loan Association for financing is just like working with your own tools on your own farm. It makes good farm sense!

IMPROVEMENT PLAN OFFERS LONG TIME

Farmers in Boyd county are planning a long time, as well as a 1948, soils and crops improvement program, notes Farm Agent Henry H. Pope. Objectives set up by a committee are: Know the soil through soil tests; drain wet land; provide good pastures, 1½ acres per animal; 100 percent of farmers to grow hybrid corn; use of lime and phosphate; slow down water runoff by means of terraces, ditches, soil waterways, and contour cultivation; 100 percent to grow cover crops; take better care of farm woodland, and produce more hay of better quality with alfalfa.

BOOST TOBACCO YIELDS

Forty-seven farmers in Rockcastle county reported to Farm Agt. Robert P. Spence that they produced more than a ton of tobacco to the acre in 1946. Fifteen years ago, the county average was 490 pounds. Topping the list last year was Buford Brown, of Quail, with an acre-record of 3,222 pounds. He raised Ky. 16, with cover crops of sweet clover, vetch and rye for the past four years, and manure and fertilizer added.

KENTUCKY NEED HAVE VARIETY OF FLOWERS

"Beekeeping in Kentucky," a circular published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, calls white clover the most valuable honey plant. It grows all over the state.

Other honey-making plants in the Bluegrass and northern parts of the state are black locust, maples, sweet clover, alsike, asters, smartweed and goldenrods. Then there are birch, honeysuckle, blackberry and a host of miscellaneous plants.

In the eastern part of the state are basswood, sourwood, yellow sweet clover, black locust, redbud, maples, tulip, poplar, smartweed, persimmon, spanish needle, mints, partridge pea, sumach, goldenrod, and vine, serviceberry, blackberries and asters.

Honey-making plants in the central and western parts of Kentucky include white clover, alsike, asters, yellow sweet clover, smartweed, mints, spanish needle, goldenrods, buckbuck, wild indigo, bonesets, buckheat, yellow-wood, sand vine and cucumber.

Without respect to location, other plants listed as sources of honey and pollen are dandelion, bush fruit blossoms, fruit-tree blossoms, ironweed, beggarsticks, willow, melon, cucumber, teasel, cowpeas, soybeans, figworts, thoroughworts, hawthorns, elms, apple, wild black cherry, elder, alfalfa, vetches, thistles and sunflowers.

FARM, HOME WEEK IN GRANT COUNTY

Grant county farmers and homemakers showed their progressive spirit when they recently declared a farm and home improvement week. Seven stores in three towns had special displays emphasizing the latest ideas in electric pumps, modern cabinet sinks, water heaters and bathroom equipment. A feature of the week was a discussion at the courthouse of farm water systems by E. S. Holmes of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. This was followed by demonstrations in homes of two farmers planning to install such equipment. The week's program, said Farm Agent Robert Hume, was planned as the beginning of a year-round home modernization project.

The youths held on charges of breaking and entering the New Haven - School and possessing a stolen automobile were arrested in Carrollton, Wednesday, February 23 by State Troopers. The youths set fire to the mattress and summoned jailer, Austin Scroggins to put out the fire. When Scroggins entered the jail, the youths attempted to take the jail keys, but failed in their attempts.

When the youths commenced suffling with Scroggins in an attempt to wrest his keys, the jailer tossed the keys through the cell door, which he had locked upon entering.

The would-be jail breakers had fashioned crude blackjacks by wrapping the shower handle and a piece of concrete in pieces of a towel they had torn up.

Both Felix and McWaters will be arraigned before the April term of grand jury.

The youths confessed breaking into the New Haven school building where they obtained an undetermined amount of money. Damage to the school building was estimated at $300.00.

Right For Both Sides

The debate over profits goes on. One school of thought in this country seems obsessed with the idea that when an industry comes up with a statement showing substantial earnings, it is ipso facto proof that the public has been robbed.

But there is a great deal more to the profit situation than that. A while ago, the head of a leading oil company testified on the subject before a government fact-finding body. He observed that his company had had an excellent postwar experience, from the point of view of dollars earned. He then pointed to three facts which those who denounced profits always overlook.

First, the dollar today is only worth about half what it was in 1940.

Second, his concern is now supplying its customers with almost twice as much oil as in the prewar era, and one has naturally handled more money.

Third, depreciation allowances are based on original cost. They are, therefore, totally inadequate in the light of today's prices for equipment and construction. Much of the profit earned must be used to make up the difference—as well as to branch out and prepare for anticipated future public demand.

Industrial workers earn far more than they did before the war—in many cases two and three times as much. This, according to most people, is justified by the higher cost of living, and its wages are called profits. What is right for one side is right and equally necessary—for the other.

Out For Business

According to a survey, many retail stores are increasing their promotional efforts this year simply because that still more effort will be devoted to seeking the good will and patronage of the buying public.

In all but a few fields the buyers' market is back and shortages are a thing of the past. The "easy money" spending spree has lost most of its momentum, and people want full value for what they spend. This has led to more aggressive competition among stores of all sizes and types, and to an even greater reallocation on the part of merchants that their future depends on how well consumers are served.

A situation such as this can exist only in a free market, where no one has a monopoly on the business, where anyone can go into retail trade if he chooses, and where every consumer is free to take his trade where he will. The results are seen on every hand—in voluntary reductions in profits by retailers, in better physical equipment in stores, in higher standards of service and courtesy, in the wide range of stocks that await the shopper's selection.

Here too is one of the best arguments against such devision as rationing, allocations and price controls. These restrictions are inhersently injurious to competition. Everyone must sell at the same price, and everyone must carry about the same goods. A static economy results. And the consumer is one of the big losers.

Common Sense

"War talk, mounting tensions, crises, these will return. You may as well get used to them, take them in stride, they're going to be with you for a long time. Better learn to live with them. These years demand of the intelligent citizen that he do everything in his power to strengthen moral and spiritual fibre of his nation, to sustain its economy and direct its course.

"Having done that, you may as well relax, enjoy the days of your years, make life as pleasant as possible for yourself and for those around you. Take the longer look, keep the over-all picture in mind. There's no percentage in waiting for happier days. They will not come in your lifetime or mine.

"If you keep eyes glued to headlines, ears to radio, jump at every alarm, you will not successfully plan and conduct a business: you'll join the ranks of the one-in-ten who are already mental cases."

This isn't the first world crisis and it won't be the last. The "war of nerves" is producing too many victims in the United States. The best medicine for survival lies in calmness and strength, and a determination to stand by our principles.

GARDEN TIPS

Although there is still some danger that cold weather may injure lettuce and greens, an early start with these crops is essential. The expense of seed is small so not much is lost if cold weather does hit.

An early start is essential if head lettuce is to head. The heading should be well under way by the time warm weather comes in May.

Grand Rapids is a good head lettuce but the new Sciolott variety is less apt to go to seed. Simpson is a good "loose-head." Longer standing varieties are Imperial, New York and Aceberg. Great Lakes variety exceeds all in withstanding hot weather. Bibs is a smaller head variety that has excellent quality and flavor.

The ground should be rich for greens with poultry or hog manure making excellent fertilizer.

The most popular early green is mustard and the Southern Curled is a good variety. Other early greens or Tendergreen, a mustard-spinach, maturing 10 days earlier than mustard. The Scotch Curled is a good early kale.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

A favorite old-time recipe is one made with grated raw sweet potatoes. A secret of its goodness, says Mrs. Pearl Haak, specialist in foods at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, is long, slow cooking, which almost carmelizes the dessert.

Sweet Potato Pudding: 4 large sweet potatoes or 6 cups, 2 eggs well beaten, 1 cup molasses; ½ cup milk, ½ cup melted butter, one-fourth teaspoon salt.

Peel and grate the raw sweet potatoes, then add well-beaten eggs, molasses, milk, butter and salt. Pour into a buttered baking dish, set in a pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for two hours. Serve with whipped cream or lemon sauce. Serves 12. If desired, ½ teaspoon each of cinnamon and nutmeg may be added.

Menu: Pot roast of beef with gravy, boiled onions, buttered carrots, lettuce salad, biscuits, butter and sweet potato pudding.

God's Signature

Lesson for March 13, 1949

Dr. Foreman

IN A STRANGE city you may suddenly need to be identified. Some suspicious clerk wants to know if your signature is genuine. It is a fair challenge, for too many liars are in circulation. Jesus himself had to furnish identification. No less a person than his old friend John the Baptizer had grown uneasy. "Are you the one we are looking for," he inquired, "or shall we look for someone else?" Jesus' answer to John was not to discuss the theology of the Incarnation, or anything of that sort. He just went about his usual day's work.

In the course of that day he cured a good many sick people, and preached to some very poor people. "Now go back," he said, "go back and tell John what you have seen and heard." What those men saw that day was what Jesus at another time called the "finger of God," the genuine divine signature.

Jesus wrote no book, no letters even; he wrote in action, and his acts were the handwriting of God. It is important to see where Jesus underscored that writing. It is true, his healings were what we call miracles. But Jesus did not even mention that feature.

What he asked John to notice was simply this: the blind see, the lame walk; lepers are cured, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and (as a climax!) the poor hear good news. The signature of God, in short, is not sheer power; it is using what power one has, to help people in trouble.

Not By Bread Alone

THE EXPRESSION, "needy people," nowadays suggests people who haven't enough to eat or wear. Jesus helped such persons; but he knew well that men's needs go beyond well-cared-for bodies. There was the poor man from the graveyard, for example,—he was happy enough. He didn't want clothes, and he was strong enough to steal all the food he could eat. All he wanted, in fact, was to be let alone. But Jesus knew that what he needed above all was a sane mind, a mind no longer run over and trampled by a regiment of devils.

When Jesus got through with him he was clothed, but that was not the best part of it. He was in his right mind. So God's signature is not only written in a sound body, it is in the sound mind. Again, at Jericho when Jesus invited himself to dinner with the pint-sized tycoon Zacchaeus, Jesus did not go just for the meal. He went because he knew that Zacchaeus needed something. Jericho needed something, too, something only Zacchaeus could give.

We do know that after dinner Zacchaeus was a changed man. He was going to give back every dishonest penny, with interest; and since he could not locate every one he had cheated, he was going to give away half of his holdings for the benefit of the poor.

What Jericho needed was a new administration, any honest one; they needed slum clearance; and Zacchaeus was going to give it to them. But first of all Zacchaeus had needed a new heart—and Jesus gave him that.

We Too

ALL AROUND us is a troubled world. Some men, seeing it, infer there is no God. Others conclude that if there is one, he must be bad or weak. The truth is that the signature of God is not to be found in the evil and the confusion of the world. It is to be seen wherever freedom is standing against slavery, wherever truth is pushing back ignorance, where diseased bodies are being healed, where sanity replaces madness.

More people would believe in God if they could see more of the handwriting of God. Do you want to help?

We cannot always do things as simply as Jesus did. Curing the diseased is not for us a simple matter of saying, Be well. A Christian woman, distressed by what she had learned of the plight of the insane in her backward state, was asking the head of the state hospital (himself a Christian editor): "What can we Christians do?" "Get behind the legislature," he said.

FINDS NEW KIND OF BURLEY GRAY

Byrd Litton of the Little Brushy section of Rowan county is so satisfied with a test he made in 1948 of F 17A 49 tobacco that he plans to use it for his entire crop this year, he told Farm Agent Adrian Baker. Having had Fusarium wilt in his tobacco field in 1947, he set half his field with Ky. 16 and the remainder with F17A. The crop of Ky. 16 suffered extensive damage, but it stopped abruptly, said Mr. Litton, at the row in which the F 17A plants were set. He was pleased also with the weight and quality of this new variety.

Tobacco Plant Bed Management

The preparation of tobacco plant beds is foremost in the minds of tobacco growers as spring approaches. The selection of the plant bed site, fertilization, seeding and variety selection are of utmost importance, according to Bill Davis County Agent.

Fertile, well drained land, with a southern or southeastern slope, free from shade are points to consider in selecting the place for a plant bed. Use a new place for the bed each year. This is a great help in preventing black root rot and blue mold. Be sure the ground is free from bullnettles and ground cherries, as these plants may carry mosaic.

The grower should always select disease resistant varieties. In most upland soils in the county black root rot and mosaic are the two diseases most growers are concerned with. Varieties resistant to black root rot are BB-14, Ky. 16, 19, Ky. 22, Ky. 24, Ky. 41-A, Ky. 52, and Ky. 56. Ky. 53 and Ky. 56 are also resistant to mosaic. In river and creek bottom soil where fusarium wilt is a problem Ky. F-17-A is the best variety.

After the bed has been burned a low potash fertilizer should be applied at the rate of 40 pounds per 100 ft. bed. Heavy fertilization of plant beds may cause the plants to yellow and die in dry weather.

Seed should be sowed at the rate of 2-3 level teaspoons for each 100 ft. bed. The bed should be boxed tight to keep out flea beetles and cutworms.

Plant beds should be treated with bluestone-lime to control wildfier and leafspot. When the first true leaf appears on the plant the first application should be given.

Repeat the treatment in 10 days. The blueatone-lime mixture is made by mixing 3 pounds of bluestone (copper sulphate) and 4 pounds of lime (not agricultural limestone) in 50 gallons of water. Fifty gallons will treat 200 ft. of 9 ft. bed. The mixture can be applied through the canvas.

To control blue mold the beds should be sprayed twice a week and after evedy rain from the time blue mold is first reported until setting time. Use 3 level tablespoons of fermate to 1 gallon of water and apply 4-6 gallons of spray per 100 ft. bed.

To control cutworms use 1 part paris green, 25 parts of bran and mix in enough water to make a moist mash. Sprinkle the mash thinly over the bed in the late afternoon.

To control flea beetles dust the bed with 1% rotenone at the rate of ½ pound per 100 ft. bed.

When setting and resetting is finished destroy the plants in the bed to keep down insects and help prevent the spread of diseases.

CHANGES CAN BE SOWED IN SPRING

While fall seeding of grasses is preferred, good stands are usually obtained from late winter or early spring sowing, according to the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

Good stands of all grasses except bluegrass may often be had by sowing in oats, provided the oats are sown in late March or early April and not seeded too heavily.

CONCRETE BLOCK BARN FOR HEREFORD CATTLE

A $50,000 barn of concrete blocks is being built by Frank Bassham, of Harlan county to house his herd of 60 Herefords. Plans for the barn, as well as for feeders, hay racks and other time and labor saving devices were furnished him by County Agent Allan C. Davis. A loft over the entire barn will hold about 80 tons of loose hay. Mrs. Bassham's herd is headed by one of Kentucky's finest herd bulls, Larry Domino 120, said the farm agent.

The community wishes the best for Mrs. Sterling Rouse, who underwent an operation at Christ hospital, Cincinnati on Friday. She is reported to be doing nicely, however.

The sympathy of the community goes out to the family of L. L. Childress, 80, who passed away at his home in Clermont, Fla. Prior to his retirement Mr. Childress served as a rural mail carrier in the Boone and Kenton County areas, covering around 25 miles a day with his horse and mail wagon and over some roads that were not macadamized and at times almost impassable.

Jack Renaker has returned home from St. Elizabeth Hospital and is convalescing nicely, we are glad to report.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Carpenter had as guests Friday night, their daughter, Mrs. Richard Keyer and husband of Latonia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller entertained at dinner Friday evening, honoring their son Trooper R. R. Miller on his 22nd birthday. The table decorations were carried out in pink and white as was the birthday cake which bore 22 candles. We join in wishing Trooper Miller many happy returns of the day.

Miss Stella Carpenter, of Covington was the guest of home folks here, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown and sons Donald and E. Warne and J. T. Stephenson attended the sale of Leslie Stephenson at Owenton on Wednesday. They report an enormous crowd in attendance and high prices prevailing, cows selling up to $300.00 and over.

Frank Houston and wife, relatives of the J. T. Stephensons were their guests Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. L. J. Thompson was hostess to the sewing club at her home on Thursday. The guests were Mesdames Viola Idol, Harold Ramey, Hazel Alge, Russell Millet and daughter Carol, Chas. Nichols, A. L. Thompson and son Larry, John Greet and Frank King. A delicious luncheon was served with chicken pot pie as the main dish.

The midget basketball teams, under the direction of Robt. Utz met at the home of Billy Ray and Harold Victor Markesbery Saturday evening where they enjoyed a party and refreshments of cake and pie alamode.

Mrs. Cora Darby visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Riggs, of Ludlow recently at the home of their daughter Mrs. Hellebush. We regret to learn of the illness of Mr. Riggs.

Mrs. Wm. Markesbery and Mrs. Cora Darby called to see Miss Jessie Gordon Sunday afternoon. Miss Gordon fractured a hip some time ago and has been confined to a hospital. However, she has improved sufficiently to return to the home of her sister, Mrs. James Bullock, of Hebron.

Miss Alma Schwibold returned recently from College Park, Ga., where she attended the wedding of her niece, Miss AntoInnette Mary Middendorf, daughter of Maurice Middendorf and the late Anna Schwibold Middendorf.

Watch for the date of the forthcoming musical production to be presented for the benefit of the Red Cross. The production has been titled "The Red, White and Blue Revue." It's new—it's different.

Bob Martin and Jerry Rouse who are attending college at Richmond, Ky., spent the past week-end with their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Heger and son Greg, of Erlanger were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Aylor and daughter.

Just Let Me Tell You A Few Facts About Walking, So You'll Realize Just How Much It Can Do For You

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

814-816 Madison, Covington

The normal heart, you know, beats about seventy-two times a minutes and pumps about six ounces of blood with each beat. Now, in fast walking, or at the rate of four miles an hour,—(which is how fast you should walk to do you some good)—you'll find the normal heart will INCREASE its beat ten times to the minute, pumping six ounces per minute or 3600 an hour, which is 225 pounds. You can easily see that 225 ADDITIONAL pounds of blood pumped DAILY through your veins means just that much more life to your whole body.

There's no use of my telling you to get out and walk if you are having trouble with your feet, because I know you won't do it. BUT—if I tell you how to get rid of those aching, paining feet, first—then there's nothing to keep you from walking every day and benefitting your health by this wonderful exercise.

It has also been found that millions suffer without knowing the reason why—those headaches, those leg pains, and even sleepless nights may be caused by the shoes you are wearing.—Adv.

Factors In Crop Production

The six essential factors in crop production are, the seed, the home for the plant, the food of which the plant is made, moisture, heat, and light.

Of these six factors the one that man can assist the most in is the food. Although of late he has taken considerable interest in the seed by select breeding, by improved varieties, or by cross breeding. Other lesser factors in ways the farmer can help is protection from weeds, insects, and diseases.

We will discuss briefly each factor separately, beginning with seed. The old question of which came first the seed or the plant is yet to be answered. Farmers and plant breeders, by cross pollination and selection have improved seed varieties. The increased production some times gives the wrong impression and we give credit to better cultivation and some think we have improved our soil. What actually has happened is that our improved variety will take more from our soil.

The Home, our Second Factor

Scientists are producing plants without soil, but we as farmers have to depend on the soil as the plant home. By good management we may make a bad home or soil into a good soil. By rotation we can improve the texture of the soil, and by mechanical structures we may also improve the water holding capacity of the soil.

The third factor, food, is where the farmer can be of the most assistance to plant growth as mentioned before. By careful observation he can determine what food elements are lacking and supply the limited elements. The lack of the different elements in the plant diet give different color schemes as well as variations in growth. Of the ten essential elements required for plant growth, three come from the water and air, and make up ninety-five percent of the mature plant. These elements are, oxygen, carbon, and hydrogen. Nitrogen, one of the limiting factors of good crops also comes from the air indirectly. The other essential elements are potassium, magnesium, calcium, iron, sulphur, and phosphate. There are yet other minor elements that have been found to assist in increasing yields. It seems likely a fairly easy job then for the farmer to supply the limiting elements by purchasing a fertilizer that has the element. It might be suggested here that a farmer look on the tag on the fertilizer bag and see if the factor is present that he needs. In other words don't buy fertilizer. One farmer figured that if two tons of limestone was good for his land then twenty tons would be ten times as good. He was sadly disappointed that year when he housed his crop.

Moisture, the fourth factor, is entirely out of the farmer's hands until the water falls. As stated before he can aid materially in holding the moisture or water or assist in removing it if necessary by mechanical means such as terraces, contour cropping, and by building up a soil with considerable organic matter.

Factor five: Heat, of course we depend on nature for, but we can assist again by good management. It is a known fact that dark objects absorb heat while white objects deflect heat. A good dark soil, we all know is a warm soil, and we know also that a white soil is very poor or cold.

Light is essential in plant growth and coloring. Farmers can help here by removing weed plant and vines and by spacing the crop so the plant can get light from all sides.

The three lesser factors, weeds, insects and diseases must be controlled by man. These pests generally appear in the degree that one or more of the essential factors are out of balance. Poor, starved crops seem to be the first attacked by insects and disease. It might be the others are attacked the same as the poor ones but the good strong plant, by proper diet and a pleasant environment can ward off these pests.

The Clark 4-H Club in Rowan county added to its treasury by selling shelled black walnuts and Christmas wreaths.

GREEN FARMERS WOULD GROW CHRISTMAS TREES

After conferring with Wayne A. Mitchell, farm forester at Campbellsville, T. Leon Clark of Green county announced plans to grow Christmas trees on a five-acre tract. He will set 3,500 loblolly pine seedlings each year until the tract is covered. The trees should be big enough to sell in three or four years, after which an acre will be sold each season and replanted.

Assessment Program Will Bring Equality

Gov. Earle C. Clements today declared that the tax assessment program which he has recommended to the General Assembly "fully preserves the principles of home-rule and local self-government."

"There is no desire or intention when my part to initiate a partisan program," he said. "The measures that have been recommended will stand up fully under the light of discussion and debate. These measures are designed to bring about a greater element of equality and uniformity between different classes of taxpayers.

Reforms sought would be brought about at the local level. It is merely the purpose of the State to provide necessary tools and assistance to local governments so as to help them carry out their duties. 'The program, if enacted, should go a long way toward gradual elimination of inequalities that now exist.

We also seek to provide more competent and better paid personnel to do the job.

The program is so drafted that counties that have received school equalization funds in the past be given a reasonable period of transition in which to make assessment corrections, and not be deprived of added school funds. This course will assure that during the period of transition the school children will be fully protected while governments put their own houses in order.

"Success of the program is that the State will offer its facilities to counties requesting aid. The program is calculated to help the counties, and to bring about order where there is now chaos. Every principle of self-government is preserved.

The General Assembly, through appropriate committees of the House and Senate, will begin hearings today on the tax assessment measure.

The Governor has declined to give consideration to an amended call that would include other subjects while the present measures are pending. These subjects are:

An added appropriation of $700,000 for the State's mental hospitals.

Additional REA legislation to make that measure conform to the federal law.

ICE FOLLIES ATTRACTION AT CINCINNATI GARDENS MARCH 10TH TO 22ND

Climaxing more than a year of intensive preparation and rehearsal, the Shipstads and Johnson will bring the current edition of their ice extravaganza, Ice Follies of 1949, to the Cincinnati Garden beginning on March 10th to 22nd.

Embracing more than a dozen elaborate production numbers, adorned with 700 colorful costumes, the current edition will present a cast of 167 skilled skaters in a production that surpasses in all departments its twelve predecessors. The tuneful musical score offers this year, for the first time, a dozen original singable number by ex-Walt Disney composer, Larry Morey, of Hollywood, in addition to a host of lyrical and familiar selections.

While the established stars who have earned their place in the hearts of the Ice Follies fans in previous years predominate in the cast, there are several outstanding newcomers. Narena and Norris, acrobatic and adagio skaters, make their Ice Follies debut this season in a breath-taking and show-stopping routine. In the realm of technical figure skating excellence, the Shipstads and Johnson offer Marilyn Ruth Take, of Halifax, Nova Scotia, an important member of the Canadian Olympic games team which competed at St. Moritz last winter. Besides her blade skill, Miss Take brings to the cast an inhert flare for showmanship that has endeared her to Ice Follies fans.

The comedy department is capably filled by the inimitable Frick and Frack and the rapidly rising zanies, Rasmussen and Cameron. Novelties include "Agnes the Lion," portrayed by Ericsen and Mulvey, assisted by Ed Dunigan; and the hilarious group comedy routine, "Mr. Potter's General Store."

Other well-known members of the all-star cast include Mae Ross, Hazel Franklin, Betty Schalow, the Scotvold Twins, Hugh Hendrickson, the Schramm Twins, Harris Legg, Hamilton and Morrison, and the famous Ice Follies skating quartette.

The Ice Follies troup will arrive in Cincinnati by special train carrying six complete baggage cars filled with costumes, properties, and stage settings. On the technical side the producers have made effective use of unusual materials in presenting the setting for the current edition. Plastics are profusely used for both costumes and set-pieces. An innovation this year is a new type under-ice lighting which give an eerie effect as the skaters glide over the ice surface in semi-darkness. New lighting effects have been perfected to give startling surprises at several points during the performance.

The most important production sequences packed with all the innate skill of the producers include the Fountain of Versailles, Candyland, Arctic Fantasy, California Centennial, Aladdin's Lamp, Coney Island, Mardi Gras at New Orleans, and the spine-tingling precision finale, Aero-Dynamics.

Show New Plymouth Auto At Dealers' On March 18th

The new line of Plymouth automobiles, with outstanding mechanical improvements and up-to-the-minute styling, make their appearance in dealer show rooms here and throughout the United States Friday, March 18, Earl M. Aylor proprietor of Hebron Garage, Walter Scothorn, proprietor of Scothorn Motors, Hebron, and Stanley Vallandingham, proprietor of Walton Garage, announced today.

Completely redesigned and streamlined, the new Plymouth contains a 97-horsepower engine which is smoother, liveller, and more economical. Other changes make notable contributions to beauty, safety, and passenger comfort.

Wheelbase has been increased for a better ride and more road stability but at the same time the over-all length has been reduced for ease of handling. Although lower and narrower, the new bodies provide greater interior room for passengers. The car's appearance reflects a complete change from last year's models. The Plymouths may be seen at the above dealers showrooms on March 18th.

Designers have achieved a "common sense" streamlining in which ease of handling, safety and comfort have received strong consideration. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal masses so costly to repair or replace.

Increased visibility is provided in the windshield which is 37 percent larger and the rear window which is 35.4 percent larger. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area.

Sedan seats are wider and deeper, both in front and rear. The width of both cushions has been increased (5" in front, 6" in rear—front seat width 56", rear seat width 57") with panels and arm rests so located as to take maximum advantage of the interior space. Rear seat room in the Club Coupe has been increased to the equivalent of the Sedan. There is more head and leg room in the rear seat.

The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. There are four special deluxe and two deluxe types on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase. This wheelbase group consists of a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

Available on the 118-inch wheelbase will be a club coupe and a four-door sedan in the deluxe series, while the special deluxe group will include both the club coupe and four-door sedan in addition to the convertible club coupe and the station wagon.

Engine performance and efficiency has been improved with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ration to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster response to throttle opening.

The longer wheelbase allows a "cradled ride," as passengers are

Was Killed June 10, 1945 In Okinawa Action With U. S Army.

Funeral services for Cpl. James Edward "Nooner" Rogers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rogers, of Belleview, were held at the Belleview Baptist Church last Tuesday afternoon before a multitude of relatives and friends.

Cpl. Rogers was killed June 10, 1945 in action on Okinawa. He enlisted December 1, 1942, and took part in the battles of Saipan, Tinlan, and several other major engagements.

Young Rogers, who was 23 years old, served in the 13th Armored Division and later was transferred to the 715th Amphibian Tractor Bn. He wore the Asiactic-Pacific Theater ribbon with three battle stars and the good conduct medal, The Purple Heart was awarded posthumously.

Cpl. Rogers was born and reared in Belleview. He was a graduate of Burlington high school and was a member of the Belleview Baptist Church.

"Nooner" as he was so affectionately known by his many friends was one of the most popular young men of Boone County.

Besides his parents, Cpl. Rogers is survived by two brothers, Alpha Lee and John Carroll Rogers and his grandfather Al Rogers, all of Belleview.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Roy A. Johnson, pastor of the Burlington Baptist Church. Pallbearers were William Ryle Presser, Howell Hensley, Robert Stephens, Kenneth Rogers, Alan Burcham, and Charles Benson.

The Chambers and Grubbs funeral home of Walton was in charge of arrangements.

This writer as the many friends of "Nooner" likewise must feel that our words either written or audible are inadequate in expressing our sentiments to the family of this young American, so may we borrow from that noble letter written by Abraham Lincoln to Mrs. Bixby of Massachusetts—the mother of five sons who died gloriously on the field of battle.

"I feel how weak and fruitless must be any words of mine which should attempt to beguile you from grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering to you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of Freedom . . ."

Lou Williamson

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in Belleview Christian Church for Lou Williamson, who died Thursday in his home East Bend Road, near Waterloo.

MAKES PROTEIN

Protein is the nutrient which, when eaten by farm animals, is converted into lean meat, hair, hide, hoofs, eggs, and milk. All rations must contain a goodly amount of it.

You can buy it in a feed bag or you can grow it. Smart farmers grow all they can. The first step is to lime the soil. Practically all high-protein plants, such as the legumes and better grasses, require a properly limed soil.

Use agricultural limestone regularly on your farm and you will grow not only more feed but it will have a higher content of protein and minerals.

He gave his heart and life to Christ March 7, 1928, was buried with his Lord in the water of Christian baptism, uniting with the Belleview Church of Christ.

He was devoted husband, father, neighbor and friend.

He leaves behind to mourn his passing, his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Kathleen Williamson; his only daughter, Mrs. Mary Lou (Donald) Loomis; his mother Mrs. Bess Williamson; one sister, Mrs. Blanche Slayback; one brother, Mr. Howard Williamson; two nephews, William and Benjamin Slayback and a vast host of neighbors and friends.

The poet has so beautifully and fittingly said:

Remember is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain;
To have to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of ones heart.

The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together. 1t-p

New Plymouth on Display

Plymouth's new special deluxe four-door sedan (above). Throughout the new Plymouth line beautifully streamlined bodies are lower and narrower, seats are wider and headroom greater. At the same time overall exterior dimensions are reduced, but wheelbase has been lengthened to 118 inches and glass area is increased. Horsepower is raised to 97. Although fenders flow gracefully into the body they are detachable for ease in repair.

New Plymouth Features Beauty, Performance, Safety and Comfort

Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles.

Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and garaging. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine.

The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace.

The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are: four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

The 97-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response.

Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.

HOG PROFITS CAN BE INCREASED BY EARMARKING SPRING PIG LITTERS

Farmers can increase their hog profits if they will adopt the practice of earmarking spring pig litters, the American Foundation for Animal Health reported today.

This practice, the announcement explained, involved placing an earmark on each sow and an identical ear mark on each of her pigs. Rewards of this practice were cited as follows:

"(1) Sows acting as carriers of swine dysentery and other forms of swine enteritis may be singled out more readily and then removed from the breeding herd.

"Veterinarians often note that an outbreak of enteritis first affects all the pigs in one litter, then spreads to other litters. In many such cases, the first litter appears to have acquired the disease from its parent sow.

"(2) Breeding stock for future pig crops can be selected more efficiently. Litters of healthy and thrifty pigs are premanently identified with their mothers by earmarking. Sows producing such litters may very well be selected again as breeders. Also, their female offspring may be the most promising choices as breeding stock."

Earmarking, of course, is just one link in the chain of less preventive measures, the American Foundation observed. Sanitation, good housing, balanced rations, prompt diagnosis of suspected disease outbreaks, and vaccination for hog cholera, were cited as other features of a well rounded swine disease control program.

Gus Chandler's herd of 15 Brown Swiss cattle is causing comment and attention from farmers in Rockcastle county.

X DISEASE OF CATTLE MAY BE IN KENTUCKY

An affliction of cattle called X Disease has been found in 32 states and may be in Kentucky, according to a statement from the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington. It is especially bad in the South.

A chronic disease but recently recognized, X Disease may be confused with mange, said Dr. Ross Brown of the Department of Animal Pathology. It is more prevalent in beef cattle than in dairy herds. The cause is unknown.

"Young cattle appear to be more susceptible than mature animals," continued Dr Brown. "Severely affected animals usually die. The mortality rate has been estimated at 4 to 8 per cent.

"The symptoms include watery discharge from the eyes and nose, poor appetite, loss of condition, slobbering, depression, progressive thickening of the skin, thickened areas on the muzzle and in the mouth, weakness and diarrhea.

"Some of the symptoms may be absent or mild in degree. Diarrhea is one of the less constant symptoms, while lack of appetite, loss of condition and thickening of the skin are generally noticeable.

"The animals may live a few weeks up to several months. Affected cows produce almost no milk and their calves may be born dead or die soon after birth."

. . . with an AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC WASHER

You can wash a load of clothes in an automatic washer as easily as a magician pulls a rabbit out of a hat.

All you do is put in soiled clothes and soap and set the controls. All by itself the washer cleans your clothes thoroughly, rinses them and spins them damp dry. It even drains itself and shuts itself off. You don't have to wet a hand in water—you don't even have to be there—while your clothes are washed SUPER-CLEAN!

Plan to start enjoying this washday magic soon! A few cents per washday is all it costs to operate an automatic electric washer.

UP TO 20% BIGGER POULTS
OVER MASH FEEDING AT 6 WEEKS ON NEW PURINA TURKEY STARTENA CHECKER-ETTS

Purina Research tests proved it — then last year, local turkey raisers found that Checker-Etts help keep more poults alive — made them grow faster.

THE FORM — is part of the reason. Poults take to Checker-Etts quicker and like them better. Fewer poults "starve to death" before they learn to eat. And the whole batch grows faster because they eat more feed.

THE FORMULA — does the rest. The Purina Turkey Startena Checker-Ett formula is balanced and blended scientifically for life and growth. This year, start your poults the Purina way. See us about the Checker-Etts — just 4 lbs. per poult does the job.

...ently centered between the ...ents. Another convenience toward ...ooth riding qualities is the adop...tion of diagonally mounted shock absorbed at the rear of the car, ...greater rebound control in the ...front shock absorbers, and the newly designed rubber Ideal Bumperettes. The new shock absorbers also allow greater road clearance and reduce sidesway.

Interior design of the Plymouth provides many driver and passenger comforts and conveniences. Seat backs have a full pillow in each side and three vertical pipes in the center. Imitation leather kick pads are carried around the seat bases and on the door bases. Five, more rugged window regulators close or open windows with half the number of turns formerly required. Instrument panels with a new grain finish have been redesigned and refeatured for ease in reading gauges. The glove box latch has been improved for more easy opening. A new, easily operated vent window lock has been designed to reduce theft of articles from parked cars, and the ignition cable has been heavily armored from the ignition switch through to the engine compartment as a safeguard against car theft.

A new automatic electric choke of the same type used on other Chrysler Corporation cars, has been added. Among the outstanding innovations is the combination ignition and starter switch which completely eliminates the starter button. The car starts by turning the ignition key slightly beyond the "ignition on" position. The device is not only a driver convenience, but makes it impossible for children to move cars which are parked and left in gear by accidentally pushing the starter button.

A new fresh air car heater, which steps up defrosting and more readily removes window fog, is available in three models. Located under the hood, the new heater operates quietly and is easily installed. It may be used in warm weather as a fresh air circulator.

New seat cushion construction allows the addition of extra spring coils to reduce the softness of the cushion and to provide greater support, if needed.

There are numerous improvements in the new Plymouth's electrical and lighting system. Headlights equipped with a bull-eye lens in the center of the sealed-beam lens provide substantially increased light output. Plastic lenses have been installed in the stop, tail, and parkidg lights. The lenses are more resistant to breakage, and provide better sealing at points where dust and dirt might enter. A new enclosed circuit breaker, interchangeable with those used on other Chrysler Corporation cars, eliminates the need for replacing lighting system fuses.

The addition of a 10,000 ohm suppressor permits the use of a larger initial spark plug gap, resulting in improved idling and low speed, light load performance.

Notes and Comments

From the Editor's Desk

How Strong is Russia?

Just how strong is the Russian economy, by comparison with that of the United States? Just how successful have the Communist leaders been in restoring their basic industry after the strains and ravages of a long war?

These are questions of the highest importance. Russia's capacity to fight again, regardless of how large her armies and air forces may be, will be largely determined by her industrial potential—military powers burns out swiftly unless there is an unbroken stream of supplies to feed it.

U. S. News and World Report dealt with the Soviet Union's economic situation in a recent article whose first paragraph said: "Russia is continuing to lead from weakness not from strength, in her challenge to nations of the West. This fact is shown by the condition of Russian industry and agriculture at this time."

The magazine backed that up with a series of revealing statistics. First of all, Russia's postwar industrial comeback has been relatively slow. The output of her factories is still 6 per cent below the 1940 level. U. S. production, by contrast, is now 54 per cent above, Britain is also exceeding the prewar figure, though by a much smaller percentage.

When a direct industry-by-industry comparison is made with this country, Russia's inferiority is striking. She now produces 10 per cent as much oil as we do, 18.5 per cent as much electric power, 23 per cent as much steel, and 31 per cent as much coal—all basic products which have a direct bearing on her entire economy. She produces only 3.2 per cent as many trucks and cars, though she is now making strenuous efforts to build up her motor industry. To take examples of vital consumer goods, she produces 39 per cent as many leather shoes and 35 per cent as many cotton and woolen articles. The advantage in our favor is even more evident when it is remembered that Russia has a considerably larger population.

In its summing up, U. S. News observes: "Russia, today, is not in the same league with the United States. American production, however, is geared to consumers while Russia is concentrating everything on expanding industry. A slowdown in U. S. industrial expansion may enable Russia to narrow the gap.." So, while our industrial advantage over Russia is enormous at present, we are not in a position to believe it can safely be maintained without continued development on our part.

There is some speculation to the effect that Stalin's periodic "peace overtures" may be designed to conciliate public sentiment in the Western world, while Russia strives to bring her industrial output near to desired levels.

Overloading Our Highways

A short time ago, Thomas H. MacDonald, Commissioner of Public Roads, made a talk which is of direct interest to every taxpayer—and to every citizen who is concerned with the personal safety of himself and others. The theme of the talk is what overloading by heavy vehicles is doing to our highway systems. He said: "Specifically, we are overloading our highways in their traffic volume capacity and in their structural capacity. There is more than ample proof. The overloading of safe capacity by number and by driver misuse is reflected in the accident record. The overloading of safe structural capacity is reflected in the skyrocketing maintenance and reconstruction costs."

It is widely believed that more road destruction is caused by climatic and soil conditions than by heavy use. That, Mr. MacDonald said, was true a year ago. But since then, he went on, "There have been great changes in the total number of trucks on the highways, in the proportion of them with heavy loads and overloads, and in the observed effect on highways . . . In 1931 trucks traveled 11,400,000,000 miles on main roads. This year the figure may well reach 34,000,000,000. In 1931 only about eight trucks in every thousand had axle loads of 18,000 pounds . . In 1947, 76 trucks in every thousand had axle loads of 18,000 pounds or more, 33 of which were 20,000 pounds or more, and 14 were 22,000 pounds or more."

Mr. MacDonald presented considerable technical detail, based on specific observations considering laws to permit heavier legal loads. Then he stated categorically: "Axle loads in excess of 18,000 pounds should not be authorized."

What this all adds up to is that the cost, to the public, of building roads adequate for the heaviest commercial traffic is becoming stratospheric—and that road destruction due to overloading is a threat to every pocketbook, and to the safety of everyone who rides in a motor car. The problem may be a difficult one. But the facts brought out by Mr. MacDonald indicate that, under present laws and enforcement policies, the situation is approaching the intolerable point.

All Workers Urged To Put Forth Effort in Reaching $3,000 Goal.

"The citizens of Boone County have never failed a worthy cause, and I feel confident they will keep that record" was the statement Dean Bloss, fund chairman of the Boone County Red Cross drive made yesterday after it was announced that incomplete reports show $1,219.60 received toward a three thousand dollar county quota. Mr. Bloss urged a "go to town" effort on the part of all workers, chairmen and citizens.

Another meeting to continue plans will be held at Carlsbad Hotel, Dry Ridge, it was announced by Superintendent H. N. Ockerman.

LIME YOUR PASTURES

Every year more and more farmers are learning that good pasture is one of the most profitable crops that can be grown. Pasturage grown on fertile soil is rich in protein, minerals, and vitamins. It is perfect feed for milk or meat animals.

If you haven't applied limestone or fertilizer to your pasture recently, now is the time to do it. It may take a year or so to produce a noticeable difference but it will be there.

You'll notice the difference in several ways:
1. Clover and good grass will crowd out the weeds and poor grasses.
2. More milk and meat from healthier animals.
3. Longer grazing season and less barn feeding.
4. Lower production costs, more profits.

CHILD'S PLAY

...to wash the AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC WAY!

She simply puts in the soiled clothes and soap, sets the controls and the washer does the rest. All by itself, it cleans the clothes thoroughly, triple rinses them in clean water and spins them damp dry. It even drains itself and shuts itself off when the clothes are ready for the line.

You'll be amazed at how easy it is to wash with an automatic electric washer. And it costs so little to operate that a few cents worth of electricity will do an entire week's washing. Ask for a demonstration today!

Illness Prevents Grandfather From Delivering Oration

The following oration was prepared by Al Rogers to deliver at the funeral of Cpl. James E. Rogers, Jr., his grandson, who was killed on Okinawa, but sickness prevented and is published.

Loved Ones And Friends:

This is a severe ordeal through which I am traveling, an incident of this kind is a test of the soul of man, and I am asking of you, your prayers which will serve as an inspiration for me to carry on. It has been said and wisely so, that out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. "So be it unto me." Doubtless, you will think it strange that I should be dressed to make a few remarks upon this solemn occasion and solemn indeed it is to me, due to my relationship to the deceased. To all of those within the sound of my voice who know it is useless for me to tell them that my love, devotion and admiration for this beloved grandson had no bounds. It is so deep seated within my breast that words fail me to describe to you its magnitude. I seriously doubt that all down through the annals of time that ever was a grandfather and a grandson more devoted than we were. However, there is nothing that I can say that will add to or take away from his brief and stormy career.

The record has been made and the record speaks for itself. When I was informed that he had lost his life in this, the greatest of all wars at the hands of a ruthless foe, barbarians who knew not God, my heart bled profusely, and when I thought of his father my son, my only son, bone of my bone and flesh of my flesh and of his mother from whose loins sprang her first born, the sorrow and grief through which they were passing almost overwhelmed me. In those hours of grief and sorrow I centered my eyes upon God and lifted my voice in a most humble prayer with the full assurance that His grace was sufficient to sustain any one even under the most trying circumstances.

He made the complete sacrifice for his country. He gave his all that you and I might enjoy liberty, freedom and the American way of life and worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience without interference. If he could speak to you today I fancy that he would say, "I gave you all I had and if liberty, freedom and the American way of life is what it should be and the right to worship God according to the dictates of your own conscience is as sacred as you should have it be, then I did not lose my life in vain. I know that I left behind those who were near and dear to me, and I also made a promise I could not fulfill, but I have no desire to return to again hear the cannons roar, nor lay my breast bare to shot and shell nor to endure the privation and suffering I was called upon to endure, for now I occupy a place where there will be neither wars or rumors of wars, neither privation nor suffering, neither sweat nor tears. I trust, I only trust that you shall and will enjoy the fruits of my labor and sacrifice."

In my grief and sorrow the thought came to me why was this to be. Why could not it have been me in his stead for I have been permitted to live beyond the three score years and ten and my days of usefulness is at an end. He, young and vigorous possessed a magnetic appearance, a striking personality, surroundings good, and a bright future before him, but Almighty God works in mysterious ways, His wonders to perform. He never maketh a mistake and all things work together for good to them that love the Lord.

In God's revealed Word you will find that the allotted time of man is three score years and ten, if by reason of strength it is four score years. Yet at four score years as compared to the time you are called upon to spend throughout eternity you are as a blade of grass that growth up in the morn, cut down in the eve and withereth away, which conveys to you and to me conclusively that it is not whether or you are taken away in your early twenties, forties, sixties or eighties, but how have you spent the time while here. Have you spent it close to God or away from God which will determine as to how you shall spend eternity.

Since his passing I often think of the times we were together, for we were together so much. Labored side by side. The pleasant conversations we had, his genial smile and oftimes a kiss pressed upon my cheek. It's no more—he is gone, he cannot return, I must go to him, and by the grace of Almighty God I trust that I shall so live that when that time comes, then and not until then will God's righteousness and judgment be revealed.

After a long voyage from a far-off land where he met his death, and sacred to me (airs) is the soil that drank his precious blood, his body has been returned to his home to be placed into the bowels of the earth and there rest in peace in a war-stricken, unsettled and disturbed world.

By the Grace of Almighty God I am pleased to say "Bless his immortal soul" may the Lord of Heaven bless, sustain and keep us.

"THE HOME OF GOOD USED CARS"

YOUR ONLY REAL SECURITY: A HOME OF YOUR OWN

A Message to the Man with a Family

Nothing else you can buy with your money lasts so long, serves so well, gives so much value year in, year out, as your own home. It is at once the badge of solid citizenship and the mark of a man who is striving to provide security for his family.

Where else can you put your money, the fruits of your labor; how else can you provide so much comfort, happiness and security for your family and your self, than in a home of your own?

The house you buy today provides shelter and a good life for your family now; and as you pay for it, month by month, it helps you build a solid financial future for yourself. Of all the things you can buy, only a home retains its real worth—twenty ,thirty, forty years from now it will still gives you safe, secure shelter. All that this house actually costs you is the down payment; your monthly payments are both rent and savings.

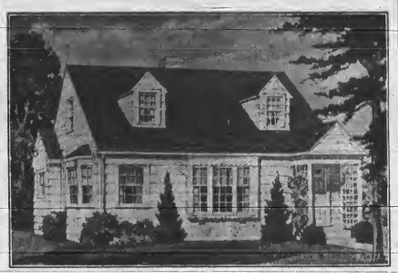
Yes, your only real security is a home of your own! Stocks may depreciate, bonds may be defaulted, even savings accounts may be depleted, but so long as your home stands, it is shelter, it is security ,it is sability, for you and your family.

Fortunate, indeed, is the man who owns his home. It gives purpose to your family life. Come war or inflation, your savings invested in a home always yield their full measure of value in shelter, comfort and satisfaction. Should hard times come some day, your home still stands as a haven. We learned during the depression of the thirties that it is neither wise, profitable nor necessary to take an honest man's home from him. We learned that there are measures that can be taken to help a man hold his home. This lesson our country will never forget.

In this blessed America of ours, more people own their own homes than in any land on earth. They are better homes—far, far better than the people of any other country map aspire to.

And our homes are getting better all the time. Now tthat material and labor shortages are practically over, you may confidently expect to find this year the greatest home values ever seen in this country.

Like everything else, houses cost more than they did ten years ago. Yet such is the progress of the building industry that more people can afford to own a home today than ever before.



The home building industry of this country is constantly increasing the value of its product and reducing its costs so that the benefits of home ownership may be extended to more families than ever before. In thousands of communities in this country, you can now buy a home for no greater monthly cost than your weekly pay check.

Remember: A home is more, much more, than bricks and mortar, nails and lumber. It is your sure investment in your family's happiness and welfare.

In this insecure world, a home of your own is the only sure bulwark you can erect against the forces that threaten the security of your family.

To love, to live, and then to part,

The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together. 1-p

who makes out your report card so you can give yourself any grade you think you deserve. In other words you, with the soil conservation district have set up a goal to work toward.

Soil conservation plans are based on good land use; or use of each acre, according to its capability. Land use capability tables now are divided into eight classes. The first four classes are suitable for cultivation with good soil management for class two, three, and four land. The last four classes are not suitable for cultivation but may be used wisely with restrictions for pasture, wildlife, woods or recreation.

Do you have a clear concise picture of your farm in your mind and feel sure what treatment or what land use should be made of each field? If not, wouldn't a blueprint help? Even if you do, a little suggestion may go a long way. From time to time suggestions will be made in developing a good farm plan, starting next week with row crops.

Conservation Conversation

By J. C. Acree

The U. S. census shows that Boone County has an area of 161,280 acres. The 1935 census states, of this, 45,000 was crop land, 70,000 pasture, 26,000 wooded pasture and 2,500 in woods; but by 1940 these figures changes to 35,000 crop land, 79,000 pasture, 23,00 pasture and 7,500 woods.

Then fifteen years ago we began changing from an intensive cropping system to a grass system. Encouraging too ,is the fact that some of the wooded pasture was classed as woods by 1940.

At the beginning of the AAA program, all land that had been plowed 7 years prior to 1933 was classed as crop land. This classification gave Boone County farmers over 50,000 acres as crop land, which is rather large.

Later, there was developed a land classification that was based on good land use rather than what had been practiced.

If you are a farmer, you know that your farm is different from any other farm. Your land or soil is different from anyone else's land. In fact the land is not exactly alike on any two fields of your farm. Then with these differences the wise farmer will treat each field different. He would not think of cropping a steep hill as intensively as he would a good fertile bottom.

As previously suggested the businesslike farmer will first want to make an inventory of his farm and then make a plan of it. Assistance is free for the asking, by contacting the supervisors of your Soil Conservation District, the technician or the county agent and make application to help you develop a plan on your farm. Fifty applications are on mile in the Boone County office at present and each applicant will be contacted at the earliest possible date. At present 384 farm plans have been completed in Boone County and soil conservation practices are being applied.

Your conservation plan should serve as a blue print for your farming operations for many years.

What are the steps in making a plan or blue print? Step number 1: A soil surveyor will go over your farm and make a soils map. This map is photographed and colored. Each color represents a certain land class that has a given land use. Step number two: This soils map or blueprint now shows you what you have and with the aid of your technician you may plan your farm operations in orderly, conservative way. Step number three: It is believed that a good conservation plan can be made and developed in five years so a program of work is set up for a five-year period. If you do not complete your developments in five years then you are the one

Come in and see "The Car Designed With YOU in Mind"

IT'S BRAND-NEW . . . so new that there aren't many on the streets yet. But already it's a tremendous success. And it's easy enough to see why.

Everybody wants a smart, good-looking modern car. But most of us don't want to pay a penalty for being modern. We want more room . . . more comfort . . . more visibility . . . not less.

That's where De Soto scores. It's got those long, low lines. But you don't have to wriggle into it. It has big wide doors. Plenty of headroom, too. The roof won't scrape your hat, no matter where you sit. It's roomier than ever.

It's no use having bigger windows and windshields unless you can see out of them. In the new De Soto you can . . . because you're sitting on chair-high seats. Even a short person can see over the steering wheel. Even a six-footer won't hit his knees on it.

You don't have to enlarge your garage to hold the new De Soto. You can still change a tire yourself. And a dent in the fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job. Come in and see this wonderful car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it with any other at any price. Then decide.

Tune in "HITTHE JACKPOT" every Tuesday night, all CBS stations

Purina Research tests proved it — then last year, local turkey raisers found that Checker-Etts help keep more poults alive — made them grow faster.

THE FORM — is part of the reason. Poults take to Checker-Etts quicker and like them better. Fewer poults "starve to death" before they learn to eat. And the whole batch grows faster because they eat more feed.

THE FORMULA — does the rest. The Purina Turkey Startena Checker-Ett formula is balanced and blended scientifically for life and growth. This year, start your poults the Purina way. See us about the Checker-Etts — just 4 lbs. per poult does the job.

One-Day Revival Planned At Local Baptist Church Sun.

Will Mark Beginning Of Ninth Year of Rev. Roy A. Johnson At Burlington

One-day revival services Sunday will mark the beginning of the 9th year of Rev. R. A. Johnson, as pastor of Burlington Baptist Church. Services will open at 10:00 a. m. with Sunday School, followed by morning worship service at 11:00 a. m. Afternoon services will be held at 2:00 p. m.

Plans have been made for the largest gathering ever to assemble in the church, it was announced by members in charge this week. Members and friends of the church throughout the county are making a special effort for these services.

The Northern Kentucky Male Chorus will be featured at the afternoon service, and will bring several special numbers, which will be followed with a message by the pastor.

Rev. Johnson accepted the pastorate of Burlington Baptist Church in April 1941. At that time there were approximately 100 in attendance for the Sunday School hour. Today the attendance has practically doubled. During his first year as minister of the church a total of $2,000 was received in tithes and offering. The past year $15,000 was received by the church in tithes and offering.

Under the leadership of Rev. Johnson, the church has made rapid progress, not only financially but spiritually. A total of of 250 members have been added to the enrollment during his years' pastorate, the church has been redecorated inside, and the basement has been completely renovated. During this time a new electric organ and new piano has been added, and at the present time plans are under way for an addition to the church which will give ample Sunday School rooms, a baptistry, and othery needed space.

The pastor in an interview, praised the membership for their splendid cooperation during the past eight years, and stated that the progress made by the church would not have been possible, had it not been for the prayers and continued cooperation of its members. He also stated that the years ahead are bright ones, as there is much work to be accomplished in this field.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services Sunday, April 3rd.

Farm Cleanup Week Announced This Year For April 3-9

Purpose Is To Reduce Livestock and Poultry Losses

Kentucky farmers and farm organizations were urged today to aid in the annual observance of national Farm Cleanup Week, set this year for the week of April 3 to 9.

Purpose of the project is to reduce livestock and poultry losses causes by disease, parasites and injury, the American Foundation for Animal Health announced.

"By taking a little time for a cleanup of lots and buildings now farmers can add materially to their 1949 livestock and poultry profit," the Foundation said.

Heading the list of cleanup measures were:

"Clean and disinfect livestock quarters, particularly those where young animals or birds are to be born or housed.

"Clean out refuse in barnyards and feed lots. Old piles of manure and rubbish may be heavily infested with livestock parasites.

"Drain or fence off low, muddy spots in yards and pastures to protect stock against the germs and parasites that thrive in stagnant water.

"Remove or destroy old straw stacks that harbor parasites and germs. Scatter the straw or plow it under.

"Pick up and remove nails, glass and other sharp objects which might cause skin wounds and infections, or might be swallowed by livestock.

"Move young animals to fresh clean ground as early as weather permits, and around weaning time have pigs vaccinated against hog cholera. Check also on the advisability of vaccination against other diseases which may be problems in the area."

In many communities, the Foundation said, it is being suggested that farmers and veterinarians organize Farm Cleanup Week as a neighborhood project to rid the entire community of these disease and parasite hazards. Organized or not, these measures were urged as wise precautions for every farmer.

Masked Man Flashes Gun And Demand Purse To "Check License."

Reynold Todtenbier, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Ruppert, of Burlington, and a girl companion of Erlanger were victims of a holdup near the Greater Cincinnati Airport, Tuesday night of last week.

Todtenbier and his companion had parked near the airport and were listening to a radio program when a masked man opened the door of the car, and demanded Todtenbier's billfold and snatched the purse of his companion from the seat. The man told the victim that he was an officer and wanted to check his drivers license.

The man was described as about 50 and very shabbily dressed.

After obtaining the billfold and purse, the robber moved across the road into a clump of bushes. Todtenbier yelled at the thief and asked for the purse of his companion, upon which the robber said, "stay where you are, I will leave the billfold inside the purse and hang them on this fence." Todtenbier stated that he went to the fence where he found the purse and billfold.

Commenting upon the several holdups near the airport during the past several months, Sheriff Rouse stated that he intended to track down the robber if he had to employ bloodhounds to do the job.

Tobacco Allotments Explained by Boone Co. Committee

Among Farmers Much Misunderstanding Concerning Acreage.

Since there seems to be much misunderstanding among Boone County farmers concerning tobacco acreage allotment regulations, the Boone County committee is publishing this article to try and answer a few of the questions which are often asked.

The biggest problem seems to be concerning the reduction of allotments because they are not raised and these regulations are as follows.

If for three consecutive years a producer does not raise at least 75% of his allotment, the allotment will be reduced to either the largest acreage he raised in those three years or an average of his last five years' acreage, whichever is greater.

If for five consecutive years no acreage is raised the allotment will be reduced to zero.

Under present regulations, no allotment of 0.9 acre or less can be cut for not being raised, but it will be lost if not raised for five years.

These regulations are the same throughout the burley tobacco district and such reduction of allotments is not an arbitrary move on the part of the county committee.

Any tobacco acreage lost by producers who do not raise their allotments can not be kept in the county to be used on other farms but is lost to Boone County. Therefore the County Committee urges all producers to try to raise enough tobacco that their allotment will not be reduced.

New Legislation To Protect Chick Raisers In State

Cooperation of Farmers, Hatcherymen and Newspapers Solocited.

Legislation enacted by the General Assembly at its regular session in 1948 regarding the sale of baby chicks in this state is designed to curtail the spread of Pullorum disease which is a serious threat to poultry growers of Kentucky, according to an announcement received from the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, Frankfort, Ky.

Pullorum disease is readily transmitted from hen to chick through the egg and can easily be detected in the breeding stock by a blood test. Thus the disease can be attacked by eliminating reactors to the blood test from the parent flock.

Hatcheries in Kentucky are required by this law to have less than two percent reactors to this disease in their breeding flocks. A license is granted to these hatcheries when they supply satisfactory evidence to this office stating that they have met the above minimum standards.

According to Regulation No. 16 passed by the State Board of Agriculture hatcheries or chick dealers wishing to send chicks to Kentucky from other states must display on their shipping container a Kentucky Approval Number. This number is granted free of charge to out-of-state hatcheries and dealers upon receipt of proof by this office that the flocks supplying hatching eggs meet the minimum standards of this state.

This legislation is not intended to act as a trade barrier, but rather as a precaution against unscrupulous persons who would send our farmers chicks which were not as free from disease as those produced in Kentucky, the Department of Agriculture announced. The Approval Number system is a way for sellers of legitimate chicks to identify their product when either advertising in or shipping into this state. The Department of Agriculture solicits the cooperation of farmers, hatcherymen and newspapers to make this new safeguard more effective.

Will they thank you for good strong feet?

Oh, you mother of a child—you want his manners to be nice, you want his brain to be quick, you want his hands to be agile—but don't you want his feet to be sturdy and true, well-shaped and graceful? Are those of your daughter?

You mother of a child, twenty years from now his feet will be walking up to get a diploma, or confidently marching in to get a job, maybe walking up to an old church altar to meet a bride in white. (Or it may be the bride herself.) Your child may never thank you for good strong feet, he'll take them as a matter of fact. But what will he think if they're not good strong feet? Sure he'll still love you—but "why didn't mother make sure I was growing up right?"

GRANT 4-H CLUB NEWS

The second meeting of the Grant Blue Ribbon 4-H Club was held Tuesday, March 15th.

The president, Orilla Ryle presided. The 4-H pledge was given by all. Several new members were added to the roll.

We sang "It Pays to Smile".

Our County Agent, Mr. Davis, told each one about his project. Mrs. Ransom, our sewing leader, has instructed the girls about material and patterns. Miss Gillaspie urged the girls to have their sewing ready to model on Rally Day, May 14th. The boys, who are taking tobacco, reported three plant beds already prepared.

After the business session, Betty Buckler played "Lavender Blue," and Bonnie Cook played "Blow Boat to China." We enjoyed these selections very much.

The president called for a motion to adjourn. Our next meeting will be April 18th.

THIS ROBBER WORKS THE YEAR ROUND

Rainwater is a soil robber. As it seeps down through your farm land it dissolves and carries with it hundreds of pounds of lime from each acre each year.

Soil experts call it leaching and have found that this process which goes on winter and summer, day and night—the year around—is robbing each acre of your farm land of lime equal to from 200 to 500 pounds of limestone every year.

You can't keep cashing checks at your bank unless you also make some deposits. Neither will your farm stay productive and profitable unless you replace the lime that has been robbed from your soil by leaching.

IT IS HAPPENING HERE

By Mary Neeley

Have you ever seen a picture of a child from one of the war-torn countries, eyes lifted in questioning, tears streaming down little dirty cheeks, and a lonely voice lisping, "Where's my Mommie?"

Did you know that is is not only happening in war-torn countries, but is a picture which could very easily be seen in most any state in our United States of America? Did you know that it is a picture that exists even in our own State of Kentucky? Did you know that it is a condition that exists in our own Boone County?

Had it ever occurred to you that were something to happen to the mother and father of your own child today and they had no relative to care for them, that there would not be a place for them to stay tonight?

Let us stop and think for a few minutes what this means to our country. The children of today are the future of America. The type of citizens that they become depends on the type of life they have that leads up to manhood and womanhood.

There are children in our own county, our own community suffering from the lack of parents or the neglect of parents, and they have been forced on one then the other and are made to struggle through life only haphazardly and as a result of this many of them are becoming juvenile delinquents and growing into hardened criminals.

True you say, "the taxpayers have more than they can stand now." I say, "the taxpayers can stand more easily making better citizens, than breaking citizens by having to send them to some reform school or detention home and paying for their keep."

Then the question is asked, "How do we know it would help?" say, if it helps one, it is worth more than it cost. We need a home for our underprivileged and homeless boys and girls. It need not be a big or elaborate one, but a place where they can at least begin to live, where they may obtain the basic principals of life.

Fellow Boone Countians, let us set the example for other counties, as we do in everything else. Let us begin to think of someday having a place for our children in our county, for our boys and girls. For remember, "Even as much as ye did it unto the least of these little ones, ye did it also unto me."

BIGGER POULTS
CHECKER-ETTS

Purina Research tests proved it — then last year, local turkey raisers found that Checker-Etts help keep more poults alive — made them grow faster.
THE FORM — is part of the reason. Poults take to Checker-Etts quicker and like them better. Fewer poults "starve to death" before they learn to eat. And the whole batch grows faster because they eat more feed.
THE FORMULA — does the rest. The Purina Turkey Startena Checker-Ett formula is balanced and blended scientifically for life and growth. This year, start your poults the Purina way. See us about the Checker-Etts — just 4 lbs. per poult does the job.

THE BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

ESTABLISHED 1875

County Is Short of Quota By Several Hundred Dollars, Is Report

The Boone County Red Cross fund drive will be extended until Wednesday, April 13, it was announced this week by Dean Bloss, county campaign chairman. The reason for the extension of time, he stated, is that the county quota of three thousand dollars is several hundred dollars short of the mark.

Red Cross officials said that only three precincts of the county have reached their quota. Those in the select group are Florence (nine hundred dollars on a five hundred dollar quota), Belleview ($136.00 on a $100.00 quota) and Constance ($147.00 on a $125.00 quota). Several other communities are nearing their goal, Mr. Bloss added.

Precinct chairmen and precinct workers are urged to make a last final effort this week in order to make the drive completely successful, officials pleaded.

Mr. Bloss requests all chairmen to have final reports into his office as soon as possible.

Remember Boone County has never failed its duty. This is a challenge. Let's meet it!

Farmers Urged To Return Tobacco Marketing Cards Garden Tips Given

Although tobacco sales have all been completed, some Boone County farmers have not yet returned their tobacco marketing card to the County A. C. A. office. These cards should be mailed or brought to the office at Burlington immediately, as they are needed to complete the 1948 marketing quota records.

Failure to return or account for the tobacco marketing card has been interpreted as constituting failure to properly account for the disposition of tobacco, and where the County Committee considers it justified, this failure may serve as a basis for the reduction of the 1949 allotment.

840 Boone Farmers Signed Up In 1949 AC Program

All Farmers In County Eligible To Participate In Program.

With approximately one month to go in the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program sign-up campaign, 840 Boone county farmers have signed farm plans indicating their intention to participate in the program, W. M. Smith, chairman of the county ACP committee, announced today.

All farmers in the county are eligible to participate in the program provided they sign 1949 farm plans before the closing date on April 30.

Mr. Smith points out that assistance offered under the program this year has been increased 75 percent over the amount available last year. This assistance will be allocated to individual farms in the county after the close of the sign-up campaign.

Participation in the Agricultural Conservation Program is entirely voluntary, but the cooperation of every farmer is need. Soil depletion and soil erosion on any farm endangers the future security of the nation because, whereever these losses occur, the potential food supply of the nation is reduced.

Latest reports received at the State PMA office show that 65,726 Kentucky farmers already are signed up in the 1949 ACP.

Mr. Smith also suggests that Boone county farmers turn in now any recommendations they may wish to make on development of the 1950 Agricultural Conservation Program.

4. Contestants must be in the preliminaries on Thursday night in order to compete for the prizes on Friday night.

5. The deadline for application into the contest is April 27.

Prizes to be awarded are as follows: $100 first prize for a set of 8 dancers; $50 second prize for a set of 8 dancers; $25 for the best couple; $25 for the best old time band of three or more pieces.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING CHANGES WILL BE IN FORCE WITH NEXT ISSUE OF PAPER

During the past it has been the policy of The Recorder to accept all classified advertising by telephone or mail on a charge basis. This policy will be changed with our next edition.

During the past several years our classified section has grown to the point that a bookkeeper's services are required to handle the accounts.

Most of our classified accounts do not exceed 25 cents, and therefore makes bookkeeping prohibitive. Beginning with our next issue all classified advertised sent to this paper must be accompanied by cash, money order or check before advertising will be carried, thus eliminating all bookkeeping.

This change is not being made because we do not trust our rural folk for the small amount of 25c, but is being put into force to eliminate bookkeeping, which has proven expensive in most instances costing more than the advertisement returned.

Persons desiring to use our classified section will count the number of words in their advertisement, send us 1-cent per word up to 25 words, and 2 cents per word for each additional word over 25. Cards of thanks will be 75c per issue, regardless of size. Classified ads having less than 25 words will be 25c. To insure publication enclose amount of advertisement with each card of thanks or classified.

Patrons desiring their ad. to appear more than one week will multiply the amount by the number of weeks they desire ad. to appear.

With this change it is hoped that we will be able to devote more time to our news section, thus giving our subscribers a better weekly paper.

We wish to thank you for your past cooperation, and feel sure that our subscribers and patrons will cooperate with us in this change of policy.

Knothole Managers And Sponsors Will Meet Friday Night

Schedule For Coming Season Will Be Arranged; Opening Game Is April 23

A meeting of managers and sponsors of teams in the newly organized Boone County Knothole baseball league will be held tomorrow night Friday, April 8 at 8:00 p. m. in the courthouse at Burlington.

At this time, according to supervisor Boyd Mahan, a schedule will be made for the coming season which opens April 23. The present plans call for the operation of a Class A and Class B league. To be eligible for a class A team a boy must have been born on or after January 1, 1934. In order to be eligible for a Class B team a boy must have been born on or after January 1, 1936. Class B boy is eligible to play on a Class A team if he is good enough, but Class A boys cannot play on Class B teams.

Eight communities indicated at the last meeting that they would have Class A teams. They were Florence, Hebron, New Haven, Petersburg, Walton, Belleview and Verona. The Class B teams were from Florence, Hebron, Petersburg and Walton. Any other communities desiring to enter a team in either or both leagues should have a representative present.

Contracts and official rules for the 1949 season will be given at this meeting to managers who have not received them.

County Judge Carroll Cropper will be present to give his views on the value of Knothole baseball to the young boys of Boone County.

Knothole baseball presents a great opportunity for young boys to play organized baseball. However the boys need leaders to perfect their plans for them, so it is urgent that managers and sponsors attend this meeting.

Don't let the kids down!

Saturday Afternoon League Will Open Season April 30th

League Officials and Managers Will Meet Monday, April 25

The Boone County Saturday Afternoon Baseball League will open Saturday afternoon, April 30, with the following schedule arrangement:

Florence at Hebron.
Big Bone at Petersburg
Burlington at Union.
Pleasant Haven at Verona.
Constance at Belleview

All teams are signing up the best young players in the county, according to team managers. The teams will play on a home and home basis with all league members and an elimination series will climax the season next fall.

The next meeting of league officials and managers will be held Monday night, April 25, at Burlington. At that meeting final adoption of the organization by-laws and regulations will be enacted.

Team managers should turn in all signed contracts to the league secretary prior to opening date of play, league officials stated. Players whose contracts are not in will not be eligible, they said.

A complete schedule will be announced in the near future.

BIGGER POULTS
CHECKER-ETTS

Purina Research tests proved it — then last year, local turkey raisers found that Checker-Etts help keep more poults alive — made them grow faster.
THE FORM — is part of the reason. Poults take to Checker-Etts quicker and like them better. Fewer poults "starve to death" before they learn to eat. And the whole batch grows faster because they eat more feed.
THE FORMULA — does the rest. The Purina Turkey Startena Checker-Ett formula is balanced and blended scientifically for life and growth. This year, start your poults the Purina way. See us about the Checker-Etts — just 4 lbs. per poult does the job.

HELP YOURSELF TO WASHDAY LEISURE

... with an AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC WASHER

The automatic washer does all—not just part—of the hard work of washing. You just put in soiled clothes and soap, set the controls and the washer does the rest—washes, rinses and damp-dries automatically. You can leave the house if you wish and return at your leisure to take out clean clothes.

Your low-cost electric service makes it possible to operate an automatic washer for just a few cents per washday. Ask for a demonstration today!

This Is the Year for FAST, STRONG STARTS

The price forecast for meat, milk and eggs in '49 is good. Feed prices are down. The profit outlook is good. First step toward profits is getting the babies off to a good start for high livability and fast growth. We recommend these special Purina Chows for the young stock...

FOR CHICKS
12% FASTER GROWTH ON NEW STARTENA CHECKER-ETTS
Yes, Checker-Etts grew chicks 12% faster than last year's Startena in Purina Research tests. Give your chicks this FAST start.

FOR PIGS
LOTS OF MILK
Purina Sow & Pig Chow balances grain to help sows produce plenty of milk for pigs. Also makes a growing ration for pigs to weaning.

FOR CALVES
BIG CALVES with DAIRY QUALITY AT 4 MONTHS
Purina Calf Startena grows calves big and husky. Costs about ½ as much to feed as milk and grows a better calf!

Compare the others with "The Car Designed with YOU in Mind"

You cannot compare the new cars merely by looking at pictures . . . or by watching them on the highway. You've got to get behind the wheel yourself.

That's why we urge you to come and see this new De Soto before you decide on any other car.

You notice the difference right away. De Soto's doors are wide. You walk in . . . and keep your hat on. The steering wheel doesn't hit your knees. You're on chair-high seats, so that you get all the benefit of the larger windows and windshield.

Yes, De Soto is lower. It's got a longer wheelbase (all passengers ride between the axles). But there's no penalty for these advantages. Overall length and breadth are not increased. You needn't rebuild your garage. You can still change a tire. And a dented fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job.

Let us show you all the new features of the car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it for beauty, comfort, safety and value. Then decide.

Tune in "Hit The Jackpot" every Tuesday night, all CBS stations

DE SOTO FEATURES THAT MEAN MORE ENJOYMENT EVERY MILE

★ Tip-Toe Hydraulic Shift with Fluid Drive
★ New Feather-Light Steering
★ Longer Wheelbase with full "cradled ride"

★ Safeguard Hydraulic Brakes with new Cycle-bonded linings
★ New All-Weather Comfort System
★ Scuff-Resistant Finish on Cylinder Walls

GARDEN TIPS GIVEN

Broccoli and cauliflower are two members of the cabbage family that should be grown in greater quantity in Boone County, according to Bill Davis, County Agent. These two crops are not usually hard to raise. Like cabbage they need and respond to high nitrogen fertilizer. They do not stand cold weather but can now be safely set. Slips that have six to eight leaves are best for planting. Snowball cauliflower and Green-sprouting Calabrian broccoli are recommended by Mr. John Gardiner, specialist from the University. Plant fine and grown wrong that affect the growth of these two crops can easily be controlled by 4-8 or 16-20-0 fertilizer.

Broccoli should be harvested before the clusters of blossom buds open.

Pinning together the large leaves of the cauliflower plant will keep the flowers or harvesting parts of the plant white and tender. Cauliflower should be harvested before the flowers begin to hanch and the blossom open.

Richard Clements, a 4-H club boy, grew 157 bushels of corn on an acre to win the corn derby in Hopkins county.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness, cards and flowers that I received during my recent illness. Your thoughtfulness will long be remembered. 1t-c

Wm. H. McFarland Opens Camp On Kentucky Lake

Wm. H. McFarland, former Boone County School Superintendent has opened a camp on Kentucky Lake, according to a letter received from him this week.

Mr. McFrland writes that he has 12 cabins, each with a private bath, electric heat, and inner spring mattress. He has 37 boats, and a restaurant which is operated by his wife who serves short orders.

Mr. McFarland boasts the most modern camp on Kentucky Lake, located on State Highway 58.

He writes, "The weather has been very bad, but it is beautiful this morning. The fish are jumping all over the lake, trees blooming out, and the sun shines bright. All we need is about half of Boone County's population sitting in our boats, dragging them in."

He urges persons coming to his camp from Boone County, to write for reservations, for it is believed that his camp will be filled until the middle of November.

"Please give our regards to Boone County, for we have a warm spot in our hearts for it, even though our stay was short," Mr. McFarland wrote.

Sheepmen Urged to Use Phenothiazine As Worm Control

Losses Cannot Be Measured By Number of Sheep That Die.

Stomach worms and modular worms are the direct and indirect cause of more loss to sheepmen in Boone County than all other sheep diseases put together, according to Bill Davis, County Agent. Losses can not be measured merely by the number of sheep that die. Death losses from worms are of minor importance compared with the loss of flesh, unthriftiness, anemia, poor wool growth and other effects on the breeding animal and the greater amount of feed required and the longer time needed to get the lambs ready for market. Weakening of the sheep by internal parasites also makes them more susceptible to other diseases.

Phenothiazine properly used can save sheepmen many dollars by keeping down internal parasite infestation. All adult sheep in the flock should be given an individual dose of phenothiazine twice each year; once in the spring after lambing and again in late fall or early winter. The entire flock, adults and lambs, should be fed a phenothiazine-salt mixture during the summer months.

The individual dosage for adult sheep is:

Bolets: Give each adult sheep two 12½ gram bolets.

Lambs should not be given individual treatment unless severe worm signs appear. If it does become necessary to treat the lambs give them ½ of the dose for adult sheep.

The phenothiazine-salt mixture to be fed during the summer months is made by mixing 1 part of phenothiazine in 9 parts of stock salt. The mixture must be kept dry. Plans for phenothiazine-salt feeders can be obtained from the County Agent.

Dealers throughout the county are well stocked with phenothiazine and now is the time to use it.

R. Z. Cason Lands Seven-Pound Fish

R. Z. Cason, well known Middle Creek farmer, landed a 7-pound carp, one day last week, while fishing in the backwater of the Ohio River in Woolper Creek. Mr. Cason reported that it required approximately an hour to land the fish as the banks were so steep where he was fishing.

This is the largest fish caught in local waters this year, according to reports.

H. N. Ockerman And County Board Highly Commended

By Robert R. Martin, Supervisor of Accounting, Department of Education

The School Accounting report of the Boone County Board of Education for the school year ending June 30, 1948, as submitted by Robert R. Martin, Supervisor of Accounting, Department of Education, was highly complimentary to Superintendent H. N. Ockerman and the Board. A commendation included in the report stated: "Superintendent Ockerman and the Boone County Board of Education are to be highly commended for having made the system financially solvent during the year. $15,000.00 in short term notes carried from 146--47 were paid as were temporary loans made during the year. Other claims carried over from 1946-47 and paid during year were $330.91 for transportation system, $5,061.05 for busses, and $2,104.90 withholding tax from teachers salaries during second quarter of 1947. At the close of business June 30, 1948, all accounts were paid to date. This cannot be commended too highly."

Some other comments included in the report were: "The inspection and audit of the business and financial records of the Boone County Board of Education showed that the records were being kept on the approved forms and in the approved manner.

"Receipts were properly entered. . . . Disbursements were likewise properly entered. . . . The account was in balance with the bank account at the close of business June 30, 1948.

"Receipts from state funds for per capita, per capita supplement veterans training, and other state aids were verified . . . Receipts from the tax collector for the local tax money were certified.

"Disbursements were supported by the approved salary schedule, contracts with bus drivers and operators, printed invoices, properly executed claim blanks, the minutes of the Board and endorsed cancelled checks.

"Minutes of the Board were in order . . .

"Teachers were being paid in accordance with the approved salary schedule and certificates were on file. The proper accumulative and sick leave records are being kept."

Pvt. Charles E. Craddock

By request of the mother and to meet and touches of Charles, better known as "Charlie Boy," I, Mrs. Ora Preece will try to picture to my mind the life of Charlie Boy from the cradle to the grave.

I saw "Charlie Boy," as a baby rocked in the cradle by his kind and loving mother.

At the age of six I saw him enter New Haven school, a bright eyed, mischievous blonde boy but always ready to try to do the work that was assigned for him to do.

He always had a smile for everyone he met and was loved by his friends, classmates and teachers.

At the early age of eighteen he decided he wanted to enlist in the army.

He was inducted into service September 1943 at Ft. Thomas being registered with the Boone County Board. He received his training at Camp Fannin, Texas, and advanced parachute training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

From all reports from his officers "Charlie Boy" entered his parachute training with the same determination, being ready and willing to obey all commands that were assigned him.

Many times as he knew the danger that was facing him, he wrote to his mother saying, he trusted in God, and left it all to whatever the will of God might be in his life.

He was sent to Belgium and while taking a message in the midst of the hardest of fighting was killed by the cruel hands of the enemy Jan. 4, 1945.

He gave his all, his young life that we might enjoy life, liberty and be able to worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience.

After a long and stormy voyage across the ocean, his body was brought to rest in peace where he will hear no more the roar of the cannon but where he can be at rest with God through eternity.

May we all be able to say as "Charlie Boy" did, "We leave all in the hands of God, and whatever His will may be in our lives, we submit all to Him."

Living together in one great family,
Is a golden chain, "Remembrance"
The cruel enemy through death has tried to breaw,
But all in vain.
To love, to live, and then to part,
Has been the greatest sorrows of our heart;
The enemy has destroyed the life,
But can never wipe away
The memory of those days
When we were all together.

We knew not where your landing place,
When silken sails winged out beyond the distant star;
We only know that faith in God,
Can light the lonely dim-lit trail to where you are.

313 days to apply limestone

Weather permitting, there are 313 days in every year to lime the land, the other 52 are Sundays. That's just another way of saying when a farm needs liming the thing to do is to put it on no matter what season of the year it is.

A few years ago most farmers spread their limestone before planting in the spring or in the fall. Today hundreds of thousands of farmers are satisfactorily liming their soil throughout the four seasons. Much of it is being applied to sod ground any time after haying and before plowing for the next crop in the rotation.

We stand ready to serve you throughout the year, except on Sundays.

UK President Cites Needs of State Schools

Additional Finances Must Be Received To Maintain School System.

Kentucky's school system cannot be maintained on an adequate basis unless additional financial assistance is received, Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University of Kentucky, today (Thursday, April 21) told an audience of teachers at a general session of the Kentucky Education Association now meeting in Louisville.

Dr. Donovan, retiring president of the K. E. A. warned that the present financial structure is inadequate and suggested three ways of obtaining more money for the state's schools: federal aid, increased and equalized assessments, and, as a last resort, passage of a state sales tax.

The U. K. president declared that "there is no magic by which a better school system can be achieved short of more money. We must not sell our school short unless we are willing to sell our country short."

"The teachers of this country have been patient and long-suffering," he said. "They have accepted the crumbs from America's bountiful table all during the war and since. For a decade we have paid the teachers, in whose care we have entrusted the education of our children ,less than we have paid the garbage collector, the fireman, the policeman, the plumber, the carpenter and the bricklayer.

"If the public thinks it can go on treating the teachers in this shabby manner and not reap a whirlwind, its mistake will prove a tragic one. The time may come when we will rue the day of our neglect. There are ominous signs of trouble ahead unless economic justice is given those who are charged with the instruction of our children."

CANDIDATE FOR CO. CLERK

Ivan Clements

Home Demonstration Agent Married To Roy Lutes April 16

Bride Has Served as Home Agent For 12 Years; Groom Is Rural Carrier.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lattimer McConnell, Lexington, with its southern colonial charm, made a perfect setting for a beautiful wedding ceremony. At the appointed hour on Saturday, April 16, Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Gillaspie, of Lexington and Mr. Roy C. Lutes, of Florence, were united in marirage, with the Rev. E. E. Goltherman, Lexington, officiating. The house was well appointed and beautifully decorated with lighted tapers and white flowers throughout. The mantel was banked with ferns and white stock and gladioli. On either side of the center piece of white gladioli were tall lighted tapers, lending grace a dignity to the occasion.

At the sound of the wedding march the bride entered on the arm of her father. She looked lovely in her costume of a navy blue faille redingote with a silk print dress of varied hues. The redingote was cut along simple lines, the center of interest being in the back with a full gathered skirt caught by the fitted waist.

The white off-the-face hat of milan straw was trimmed in navy blue with a soft navy veil. Her accessories were navy, blue, except for the short white gloves which she wore. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. A White orchid corsage added to the beauty of her costume.

A reception followed immediately after the ceremony and the guests gathered around the beautifully decorated table. The tiered wedding cake was in the center of the table and seated at either end of the table, presiding over the punch bowls, were Mrs. John Ready, of Lexington and Miss Wanda Hue, of Florence. Mrs. Ready chose a navy blue dress with a white hat, and Miss Hue was attractive in her navy suit with a white hat trimmed in navy.

The bride, a graduate of the University of Kentucky, is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary Home Economics sorority. She completed her Dietetics Internship at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, Mo., and is now President of the Kentucky Dietetics Ass'n. She has served as Home Demonstration Agent of Boone County for the past twelve years.

In addition to farming, the groom has served as rural mail carrier of Florence.

Following a three-week trip to the Grand Canyon in Arizona and other points of interest in the West, the couple will be in their home at 225 Dixie Highway to their many friends.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hodder, Jr., and family were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hodder, Sr., and daughter Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maurer and family, Miss Jean Hodder and Miles Ransom.

Hebron

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker and son of Bromley called on Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dietrich and daughter one evening last week.

The many friends of Frank Bullock son of Mrs. Mamie Bullock were grieved to learn of his sudden death Friday morning. Besides his mother he is survived by a sister Mary Katherine; two brothers Jas and George. Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p. m. from the Cutherman funeral home, with interment in Hebron Cemetery. Deepest sympathy is extended the family.

Wm. Crigler, of Madisonville, spent the week-end with his sister Mrs. W. B. Garnett and Mr. Garnett. He attended the Easter services at the Lutheran Church.

Dr. L. D. Baker and daughter Georgia moved from Ft. Mitchell to their farm here.

A very large crowd attended the Easter services at the Lutheran Church, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Chas. Winston and daughter Mrs. Overpahann entertained the Homemakers, Wednesday.

Work was begun on a new house last week for Nick Furnish on a lot purchased of Allen Goodridge.

Since there will be no house-to-house canvas as in previous years for securing funds for cancer control in Hebron and outlying districts arrangements have been made for all to either leave money at the bank with Mrs. Wilma Conner or mail directly to Mrs. Humphrey. The families that have children in school will have an opportunity to contribute along with their children's mite. The northern part of the county has supported this work so splendidly, having more than $900 to its credit last year—let's everyone give at least as much as they did last year. The marvelous strides that are being made in this field warrant the most help we can give.

FLORENCE SUNBEAMS

The Florence Sunbeams met at the church April 13 for their regular meeting. We were glad to welcome eight new members which gives us a total of 33 enrolled.

After the meeting we had an Easter egg hunt in the basement, then Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Ligon served ice cream and cookies which were greatly enjoyed.

Two of our members, Judith Sturgil and Janice Ligon are on the sick list, and we pray for them a speedy recovery.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the mothers and to the ladies of the W. M. S. for the eggs they so generously donated.

Our next meeting will be at the church April 21 at 2:30 p. m. Every member is urged to attend as a Mission study book will be taught at this time by Mrs. Zora Scott, of Belleview.

—Publicity Chairman.

Tobacco Plant Bed Management Outlined

Angular leafspot, or rust, is a common disease of tobacco plant beds and severe outbreaks will decay setting at a time when plants are needed. Wildfire, another common disease of plant beds, is much more serious. Severe outbreaks of this disease will kill large areas of plants. Both of these diseases are easily controlled by two applications of a 3-4-50 liquid bluestone-lime mixture, according to Bill Davis, County Agent. The mixture should be applied when the first true leaf of the plant appears and again 10 days later.

The mixture can be made as follows:

1. Fill a 50-gallon barrel three-fourths full of water.

2. Mix 4 pounds of fresh hydrated lime in three-fourths gallon water. Do not use ground limestone.

3. Dissolve 3 pounds of bluestone, either powdered or lump, in about 4 gallons of water. If possible use a wooden bucket or crock for a container. Lump bluestone is somewhat harder than powdered to dissolve. If lump bluestone is used the following will make dissolving easier: Put the 3 pounds of lump bluestone in a small cotton sack, beat to a powder, and suspend it just below the surface of the water and it will readily dissolve.

4. Pour the lime paste in the barrel and stir vigorously while stirring. Add the bluestone solution slowly.

Apply the mixture to the bed with a sprinkling can without removing the canvas. Stir the mixture each time the sprinkling can is filled. Fifty gallons will treat 200 feet of a 9-foot bed or 150 feet of a 12-ft. bed.

The mixture will not injure the young plants so do not attempt to wash off after applying. Do not mix nitrate of soda with bluestone-lime.

The protection of the plants in the bed, resulting in healthy, vigorous, disease free plants for setting will repay many times the cost of treating.

Dealers are well supplied with bluestone and hydrated lime. Get them now and treat your bed. These diseases may hit your plant bed and the treatment is cheap insurance.

State Dental Association Honors Dr. W. M. Randall of U. L. Faculty

In addition to dedicating the 30th annual session of the Kentucky State Dental Association to Dr. William Marcus Randall, members gave a luncheon in his honor yesterday at the Brown Hotel.

The 3-hour program of reminiscences, eulogies, good-natured banter, and testimonials closed with a donation of $2,900 from members of the class of 1924 for the University of Louisville drive for $750,000.

A graduate of the Dental School here and a teacher in the school for almost half a century, Dr. Randall was instructed to "thumb" the money and "pass it along to the fund.

Mention His Famous Thumb

Scarcely a speaker failed to mention Dr. Randall's famous thumb which he used throughout the years with devastating effect on student-made dentures which didn't meet with his approval.

Dr. O. B. Coomer presented the gift of the class of 1924 stating that 23 of the 25 members now participating attended the reunion and voted to give $100 each to the fund.

He was president of the state association in 1914 and secretary for 22 years, and has served as chairman of the national association's complete denture section.

Describes 'Mistreatment.'

Dr. E. H. Hubbuch, former professor at the Dental School, told of having Dr. Randall in his class and of subsequent jaunts to dental association meetings throughout the country, after Dr. Randall became a faculty member.

One of Dr. Randall's former students, Dr. Clyde Minges, Rocky Mount, N. C., president of the American Dental Association, humorously described the "mistreatment" he was subjected to under the professor.

Dr. Raymond Myers, dean of the School of Dentistry, commented on the doctor's "respect for his students" and added: "He has taught the faculty how to get the best out of the students and how to get the best out of ourselves."

U. L. President Speaks

Dr. W. O. Carver, professor of comparative religion and missions at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, praised Dr. Randall for his relationships in Walnut Street Baptist Church, where he has been a deacon since 1907.

Referring jokingly to the repeated comment on Dr. Randall's thumb Dr. Carver said: "I knew you had traveled far and come a long way, but I didn't know you had come all that way on your thumb."

Dr. John W. Taylor, president of U. of L. told how an exception to the retirement ruling had been made in the case of Dr. Randall. "We want Dr. Randall at the School of Dentistry as long as Dr. Randall wants to work there," he said.

Colleagues Present Radio

Responding to the speeches, Dr. Randall said:

"This humbles me greatly—more than anything else in my life. The Lord has been so gracious and good to me, giving me health, courage, and the convictions to carry out the stewardship of such abilities as I possess."

Referring to the donation from the 1924 class, he urged other classes "to do what his class has done."

Dr. A. B. Coxwell, secretary of the association, reported convention registration reached 1,500, the largest yet. Yesterday afternoon members attened an open house at the School of Dentistry and a dinner dance at the Brown Hotel.

Blown from its parent stem.
She died in beauty—like a pearl
Dropped from some diadem.

She died in beauty—like a lay

She died in beauty—like a song
Of birds among the brake.

She died in beauty—like the snow

W. S. C. S. MEETS

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Florence Methodist Church met recently with Mrs. Sam Dunham, Jr., as hostess at her home on Dixie Highway. The opening prayer was by Mrs. H. B. Daugherty.

The president, Mrs. Paul Chaney presided over the business session and was chosen as delegate to the State W. S. C. S. conference which convenes in Lexington in May. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Helen Bethel, her topic being God's Light" and concluded with a solo by Mrs. Marie Thompson, accompanied on the violin by Mrs. Viola Idol.
